SKETCH OF AUTHOR

Dr. Kenneth C. Bullock, son of Irving Bullock and Cora Mirinda Carlson, was b. 8 Sept. 1918, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah. He was the second child of five children. He received his elementary and secondary education at Pleasant Grove, graduating from High School in May 1936. In the fall he registered at the Brigham Young University; and received his Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degree in geology in June 1940, graduating with Honors. He received a graduate scholarship at Brigham Young University in the fall of 1940, and completed his Master of Arts (M.A.) degree in geology in June 1942, Provo, Utah.

During the academic years 1943-44 and again in 1948-49 he attended the University of Wisconsin, and was granted University Fellowships each year. He graduated with a Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) degree in the field of geology in June 1949. Dr. Bullock has been associated with the field of education most of his life. He served as an instructor of geology at Brigham Young University from 1943-48; assistant professor from 1948-1952; associate professor from 1952-57; and professor in 1957. He was appointed Chairman of the Department of Geology in June 1956, and served until June 1962. He is affiliated with numerous scientic societies, and has written numerous articles and books. During the years 1953-54 and 1960 he was employed as a geological engineer for Columbia-Geneva Iron Mining Company.

He served in the United States Naval Reserve during World War II. He entered service on 9 Aug. 1944, and went to the Great Lakes Naval Training Station for training. He entered Midshipman School at Northwestern Univ., Chicago, Ill., in Jan. 1945; and was commissioned an Ensign of 24 May 1945. Further training was received at the Photographic Interpretation School at Washington, D.C. for four months, until V-J day. The remaining eight months in the service were spent as Education Officer at the Naval Air Station at Memphis, Tenn.; and he was released from service 15 May 1946.

Dr. Bullock has been an active member of the Chruch of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He has served as Superintendent of the Young Men's MIA in both Ward and Stake Organizations; served as Ward Clerk and as a Branch Clerk; Chairman of the Genealogical Committee on Ward and Stake levels; Bishop of the Provo Ninth Ward; twice on the High Council of the East Provo Stake; Sunday School and Priesthood Teacher; and numerous other church assignments. He has been actively engaged in genealogical research for twenty five years.

Dr. Bullock married Annie Alena Gardiner on 8 Sept. 1938, in the Salt Lake City Temple. They are the parents of four children: Kenneth G., Virginia, Mary Anne, and Sherilyn.

FOREWORD

The publication of the Harris genealogy has been the aspiration of the writer for many years. I have been especially enthusiastic in tracing this ancestry, as well as compiling the descendants of McGee Harris and Mary Givens. This work has been assisted greatly through the efforts of many family members. I desire to express appreciation to the officers of the Harris Family Organization:

President	Douglas Ross Hale
Vice President	Franklin Weaver Harris
Secretary	Mrs. Syble Nelson Harris
Treasurer	Vard Guy Harris
Genealogist	Kenneth C. Bullock

I hesitate to enumerate others who have assisted in this compilation and in the life sketches, since I may omit several worthy of mention. Those with whom I have had personal assistance include: Mrs. Francetta Harris Allen, Mrs. Annie Jane Harris Anderson, Mrs. Enid Bullen Harris Bair, Mrs. Florence Harris Bateman, Mrs. Edna P. Harris Bickmore, Mrs. Martha Deseret Grant Boyle, Mrs. Ivy Harris Brower, Mrs. Annie A. Gardiner Bullock, Mrs. Chloe Jane Call Christensen, Mrs. Mabel Josephine Sterrett Davis, Edward Franklin Edrington, William Clarence Edrington, Mrs. Ethel Harris Elsmore, Mrs. Mary Bernes Harris Farnworth, Mrs. Emma Harris Fisher, Mrs. Eva Fisher Godfrey, Mrs. Hortense Campbell Gore, Mrs. Harriet Smith Halbert, Mrs. Ada Helen Smith Hale, Albert Bullen Harris, Mrs. Iris Hendricks Harris, Mrs. Lyla Carson Harris, Melvin Charles Harris, Mrs. Josephine Wells Lyman, Mrs. Florence Bullock Madsen, Mrs. Gertrude Harris Medford, Mrs. Sarah Emeline Harris Mickelson, Sibyl Bullen Nelson, Mrs. Audrey Harris Peterson, Mrs. LaVerna Harris Reynolds, Mrs. Zora Harris Reynolds, William Glen Robinson, Mrs. Evelyn Harris Sant, Mrs. Maud Whittle Stoddard, Mrs. Mardene Harris Traveller, Mrs. Emily Fern Adamson Walker, Mr. and Mrs. John William Whittle, Mrs. Alice Barber Wolfley, and many others who have responded to hundreds of letters.

The usefulness of this volume will be greatly facilitated if the reader is aware of the bases upon which it has been compiled, namely:

1. All females are identified by their maiden names only, unless prefaced by Mrs.

2. The descendants of each child of McGee Harris and Mary Givens are treated in separate chapters. This will assist members of each family to trace their own genealogy. Alexander Harris, one of these children, married twice and is listed in two chapters with the descendants of each wife.

3. Each chapter is systematically sub-divided by listing all the descendants of the first child, then all of the second child, etc. The book is organized so that the descendants of each grandchild of McGee Harris and Mary Givesn (55 in number) are grouped together.

Each of these grandchildren are listed in the TABLE OF CONTENTS under the chapter headings of their parents.

4. The most important key to this book is CHAPTER VII, INDEX TO NAMES. Each married blood relative is indexed as a child, and as a husband or wife. If they appear as a child and as a husband or wife on the same page there will be only one listing. If a life sketch is included, and it is on a separate page, there may be a third entry. Spouses of blood relatives are indexed only where they appear as a family group with their husband or wife. Parent's names are not indexed where they appear with the husband and wife entries, since this is an unnecessary expansion of the index. In tracing one's Harris ancestry, one merely refers back to the index--the parent will be indexed as a child and as a husband or wife. The parents of spouses of blood relatives are not indexed, since they would not appear either as a child or as a husband or wife in this book.

5. The use of numbers to identify individuals and generations is confusing and has been avoided; except to show the order of children's birth in individual families.

6. Most of the descendants of McGee Harris and Mary Givens are members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and where mention is made of the church it refers to this particular one. Other church affiliations are properly noted.

7. Family data for most families is complete to 1961, some to 1962.

8. Initials underscored (__) indicate that this is an initial name. Any names underscored indicate proper entries; and is used where the husband and wife's last names are the same.

9. A TABLE OF CONTENTS is provided for handy reference, and is an easy method for quickly locating family groups.

CHAPTER I

HARRIS ANCESTRY

The origin of the Herries (Harris) name is given by Robert Douglas in the Peerage of Scotland, 1764, p. 339, as follows: "This noble and ancient family, is said to be descended from a younger son of the house of Vendosine in France, who settled in Scotland, in the riegn of King David. The armorial bearing of the family, from whence it sprang, being a porcupine or urcheon, in French, Herisson or Herizon, from which he assumed the surname of Heris or Heriz, and that family has ever since continued to have the urcheons for their arms, in commemoration of their descent from that great and illustrious house."

Another authority by the name of Lower, Patronymica Britannica, 1860, p. 156, says that the Herries family was of "a Norman race, probably from Herries in the arrondissement of Bayeau. They were settled in the south of Scotland from the XII Century, and were, it is pretty certain, deduced from the ancient Norman family of Heriz, lords of Wiverton and Worton, county of Northampton, England."

In the ancient records of Scotland the name appears in various forms of Heriz, Heryce, Herice, Herries, and de Herries. The surname Herries was used by our family for 300 years in Scotland, until about the year 1600. When the family moved to Ireland the surname was changed to Harris, and this usage is made by descendants who immigrated to America.

The most interesting documentary histories of the Herries (Harris) family are found in The Book of Carlaverock, and Memoirs of the Maxwells, Earls of Nithsdale, Lords Maxwell and Herries, by William Fraser, Edinburgh, 1873, two volumes; The Herries Minimunts; and The Maxwell Muniments. Some ancient family data is found in the following peerage books: Scots Peerage, by James B. Paul, volume 4; The Complete Peerage, by George E. Cokayne, volumes 3 and 6; The Peerage of Scotland, by Robert Douglas, 1764. A book that has been most useful in tracing the Harris ancestry is titled Harris, Dunlop, Valentine, and Allied Families, by William M. Mervine, 1920.

WILLIAM DE HERIZ is the first of the Harris line of whom a record has been found. He witnessed a donation of Henry, Prince of Scotland, to the monastery of Wederhall and Holmcultram in Cumberland Co., England, about 1160. From his descended the family of Herries, Lord Herries of Terregles in the Stewartry of Kirkcudbright, Dumfriesshire, Scotland. He had two sons of record:

* 1. Nigel de Heriz (see below)
2. Thomas de Heriz, b. abt. 1197, of Dumf., Scotland.

NIGEL DE HERIZ, son of William de Heriz, was b. abt. 1195, of Dumf.,

Scot. He was a witness with his brother Thomas to a donation to the monastery in Kelso, in the end of the reign of King William the Lion, who d. in 1214.

HENRY DE HERIZ, son of Nigel de Heriz, was b. abt. 1230, of Dumf., Scot. He was appointed keeper of the royal forests by King Alexander II. He was witness to a donation by King Alexander to the monastery of New-Bottle about in the year 1249.

(SIR) WILLIAM DE HERIZ, knight, son of Henry de Heriz, was b. abt. 1260, Dumf., Scot. He granted a charter to (Sir) William of Karlyle and his spouse Lady Margaret (sister of King Robert the Bruce) for land held in the tenement of Keynpatrick. (Sir) William de Heriz swore fealty to King Edward I of England for his lands in Dumfries in 1296. He and Robert De Tilliol held Lochmaben Castle for King Edward in 1301. This fortress had been taken by the English monarch in 1301.

ROBERT DE HERRIES (DE HERIZ), son of (Sir) William de Heriz, was b. abt. 1294, of Nithsdale, Dumf. Scot. In 1323 in an original charter of King Robert the Bruce, he is designated Dominus de Nithsdale.

(SIR) JOHN HERRIES, First Lord Terregles, son of Robert de Herries, was b. abt. 1330, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; d. 27 Feb. 1386. He md. Margaret. She was b. abt. 1338, of Terregles. On the resignation of Thomas, Earl of Mar, he received from King David Bruce a charter erecting Terregles into a Barony on 17 Oct. 1364. (Sir) John Herries became the First Lord Terregles. He was witness to several charters of King David Bruce, and donations to the monastery of Dunfermline, between the years 1360 and 1363. He got a charter under the great seal of King David Bruce, of the whole lands and estate of Terregles in Dumfries, shire erecting them into a free barony. He was keeper of Stirling Castle in 1369-70.

(SIR) JOHN HERRIES, Second Lord Terregles, son of (Sir) John Herries and Margaret, was b. abt. 1360, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; and d. 27 Mar. 1420. He md. Euphemia de Lindsay. She was b. abt. 1372, Crawford, Lanark, Scot.; dau. of (Sir) James de Lindsay and Margaret Keith. They had five children of record:

* 1. (Sir) Herbert Herries (see below)
2. Robert Herries, b. abt. 1390, of Myrton, Wigton, Scot.
3. James Herries, b. abt. 1392, of Myrton, Wigton, Scot.
4. William Herries, b. abt. 1394, of Myrton, Wigton, Scot.
5. John Herries, b. abt. 1396, of Myrton, Wigton, Scot.

(Sir) John Herries was a witness to a charter of King Robert III, confirming a donation of David Fleming, Lord of Biggar, to the monastery of Holyroodhouse in 1393. In 1397 King David II granted a charter to (Sir) John Herries for the barony and land of Terregles. He was in England in 1405 and 1407 as hostage for the Earl of Douglas, and was taken prisoner at the Battle of Shrewsbury.

(SIR) HERBERT HERRIES, Third Lord Terregles, son of (Sir) John Herries and Euphemia de Lindsay, was b. abt. 1388, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; d. 4 July 1440. He md. Margaret Duglas. She was b. abt. 1389, Terregles, Dumf., Scotland. They had five children of record:

* 1. (Sir) John Herries (see below)
2. Herbert Herries, b. abt. 1412, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.
3. William Herries, b. abt. 1414, Kirkpatrick, Irongray, Scot.
4. Robert Herries, b. abt. 1416, Kirkpatrick, Irongray, Scot.
5. Miss Herries, b. abt. 1418, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; md. (Sir) Herbert Maxwell.

(Sir) Herbert Herries was appointed one of the hostages of King James I in 1423. He was one of the lords that sat at the trial of Murdock, Duke of Albany, and was one of the Scotch nobles sent to France to negotiate a marriage between King James's dau. and the Dauphin of France in 1425. In a charter of King James I he is designated dominus Herbertus dominus de Terregles, 1425.

(SIR) JOHN HERRIES, Fourth Lord Terregles, son of (Sir) Herbert Herries and Margaret Duglas, was b. abt. 1410, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; d. bef. 17 May 1483. He granted a charter to his uncle for his service rendered of his lands at Myrton on 6 July 1444. On 24 Jan. 1458 his brother Herbert obtained a Crown grant of Curatory as guardian of John, who was declared incompetent.

(SIR) DAVID HERRIES, Fifth Lord Herries, knight, son of (Sir) John Herries , was b. abt. 1436, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; d. aft. 26 Aug. 1495. He md. Margaret Crichton. She was b. abt. 1439, Sanquhar, Dumf., Scot.; dau. of (Sir) Robert Crichton and Elizabeth. They had two children of record:

* 1. (Baron) Herbert Herries (see below)
2. George Herries, b. abt. 1462, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; and was the ancestor of the Herries of Terraughty.

(BARON) HERBERT HERRIES, First Lord Herries, Sixth Lord Terregles, son of (Sir) David Herries and Margaret Crichton, was b. 1460, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; d. bet. 14 Jan. 1501-2 and 12 June 1505. He md. (1) Mariot Carlyle. She was b. abt. 1462, Torthorwald, Scot.; dau. of (Baron) John Carlyle and Elizabeth Kirkpatrick. They had five children of record:

1. (Baron) Andrew Herries, b. abt. 1477, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; d. 9 Sept. 1515; md. 1494, Beatrice Herries
2. Mungo Herries, b. abt. 1479, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; d. Sept. 1513.
3. John Herries, b. abt. 1481, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; d. Sept. 1513.
* 4. Roger Herries (see below)
5. Miss Herries, b. abt. 1485, Terregles, Dumf., Scot.; md. (Sir) Thomas (John) MacFarlane.

(Baron) Herbert Herries md. (2) Mariot Cunningham, bef. 4 June 1493. She was b. abt. 1465, of Terregles, Dumf. Scot. They had no children of record.

(Baron) Herbert Herries was the Sixth Lord Terregles; and was created the First Lord Herries of Terregles in 1489 by King James IV. He held extensive Lands in the shires of Dumfries, Ayr, Roxburg, Wigtown, and Stirling.

ROGER HERRIES, son of (Baron) Herbert Herries and Mariot Carlyle, was b. abt. 1483, Terregles, Dumf. Scot.; d. Nov. 1536. He served as a tutor to his nephew William, Third Lord Herries of Terregles. He received sasine from Vedastus Neilson of Maidenpape in terms of a charter granted to him 4 Aug. 1518. On the resignation of the lands by Neilson King James V granted a crown charter of the lands of Maidenpape to Roger Herries on 5 June 1520.

ARCHIBALD HERRIES, son of Roger Herries, was b. abt. 1515, Maidenpape, Roxburgh, Scot. He had three children of record:

* 1. George Herries (see below)
2. John Herries, b. abt. 1542, Maidenpape, Roxb., Scot.
3. Roger Herries, b. abt. 1544, Maidenpape, Roxb., Scot.; md. Christian Herries, and lived in Laggan, Ire.

Archibald Herries received sasine of the lands of Maidenpape on 1 Dec. 1536. He came into possession of the lands of Redcastle and others in the stewartry of Kirkcudbright on 14 Mar. 1561.

GEORGE HERRIES, son of Archibald Herries, was b. abt. 1540, Maidenpape, Roxb., Scot. He md. (1) Janet Gordon. She was b. abt. 1544, of Maidenpape. They had five children of record:

1. John Herries, b. abt. 1568, Maidenpape, Roxb., Scot.; md. Elizabeth McClellan
* 2. Archibald Herries (see below)
3. William Herries, b. abt. 1572, Maidenpape, Roxb., Scot.
4. Robert Herries, b. abt. 1574, Maidenpape, Roxb., Scot.
5. Margaret Herries, b. abt. 1576, Maidenpape, Roxb., Scot.; md. Alexander Hamilton.

George Herries md. (2) Annabella Wallace. She was b. abt. 1558, of Maidenpape, Roxb., Scot. They had one son of record:

1. George Herries, b. abt. 1580, of Maidenpape, Roxb., Scot.

George Herries was granted the lands of Maidenpape by his father on 28 Apr. 1567, which grant was confirmed by Queen Mary on the 1 May 1567. In 1592 George Herries turned over his lands of Maidenpape to his son John Herries.

ARCHIBALD HERRIES, son of George Herries and Janet Gordon, was b. abt. 1570, of Bogrie, Dumf., Scot. He md. Jean Hamilton, 5 July 1598, Mauchline, Ayr, Scot. She was b. abt. 1574, of Bogrie. They had two children of record:

1. William Herries, b. abt. 1598, of Bogrie, Dumf., Scot.
* 2. Charles Herries (see below)

On the 15 Feb. 1609 John, Lord Herries, conveyed to Archibald Herries an annual rent from lands of Margreg in the Lordship of Herries. On 25 Jan. 1615 there was recorded a bond of Archibald Herries in Bogrie to Mungo Campbell of Cowialdshaw. Archibald d. bef. 1624, because on 22 Dec. 1624 Jean Hamilton, his widow, was then the wife of Albert Brown in Trostane.

CHARLES HERRIES, son of Archibald Herries and Jean Hamilton, was b. abt. 1600, of Bogrie, Dumf., Scot.; d. 5 Dec. 1637. He had two children of record:

* 1. Edward Harris (Herries) (see below)
2. Charles Harris (Herries), b. abt. 1628, Ayr., Scot.

Charles Herries appeared as an attorney for his brother William Herries on 22 Dec. 1624, when their mother became in possession of annual rents from the parish of Lochcandiloch. The two brothers moved to the county of Donegal, Ireland.

EDWARD HARRIS (HERRIES), son of Charles Herries, was b. abt. 1620, Ayr., Scot. He md. Flora Douglas of the famous family of that name, who resided near the borders of England. She was b. abt. 1622, of Glenmaquin, Raphoe, Donegal, Ire.; dau. of William Douglas. They had three children of record:

* 1. Robert Harris (see below)
2. James Harris, b. abt. 1662, Glenmaquin, Raphoe, Donegal, Ire.; md. (1) Mary Simpson; md. (2) Jean McClure
3. Edward Harris, Jr., b. abt. 1667, Glenmaquin, Raphoe, Donegal, Ire.

On 1 Aug. 1643 Edward Harris was in Captain James Erskine's company of Raphoe in the regiment of foot soldiers commanded by (Sir) William Stewart, knight. (Sir) William Steward is said to have been from Maybole, Ayrshire, and it is probable that his followers were from the same locality. In the Public Office of Dublin is a roll containing the names of persons in the parish of Raphoe who paid the Hearth Tax in county Donegal, on which appears the name of Edward Harris. There is another Hearth Roll of Donegal in the Public Records Office, without date, but about the year 1665. This fixes the residence of Edward Harris in 1665 at Glenmaquin in the Parish of Raphoe, where his old commander (Sir) William Stewart had defeated the Irish forces in 1641, and where Edward had no doubt fought. It is not unlikely that in common with soldiers of the day, he received land in payment of his military services.

Many of the officers in the Scottish troops were elders of the Presbyterian faith, and this seems true of Edward Harris. If he was not an elder while under the command of (Sir) William Stewart, he was subsequently elected to that position in the congregration of Raphoe. The minutes of the Laggan Presbytery, preserved in the Library of Magee College, Londonderry, show that on 29 Jan. 1673, Edward Harris was a ruling Elder of Raphoe.

ROBERT HARRIS, son of Edward Harris and Flora Douglas, was b. abt. 1660, Donegal Co., Ire. He immigrated with his family to America abt. 1725-35. He died in sight of land, and tradition says he was buried at Philadelphia, Pa. He md. Dorothy Wylie. She was b. abt. 1673, of Donegal Co., Ire. They had eight children of record:

1. Thomas Harris, b. 1695, of Donegal Co., Ire.; d. 4 Dec. 1801; md. (1) abt. 1730, Mary McKinney; md. (2) Agnes
2. John Harris, b. abt. 1697, of Donegal Co., Ire.; md. (1) Grizzel Steel; md. (2) Rebecca McBay
3. William Harris, b. abt. 1699, of Donegal Co., Ire.; md. Elizabeth Glen

* 4. James Harris (see below)
5. Margaret Harris, b. abt. 1703, of Donegal Co., Ire.; md. Alexander Poer
6. Charles Harris, b. abt. 1707, of Donegal Co., Ire.; will dated 3 May 1776; md. Jane McIllhenny
7. Robert Harris, b. 1714, of Donegal Co., Ire.; will dated 25 Jan. 1798; md. (1) Fanny Cunningham; md. (2) Ann Harris
8. Samuel Harris, b. 1715, of Donegal Co., Ire.; will dated 10 Mar. 1789; md. Martha Laird.

JAMES HARRIS, son of Robert Harris and Dorothy Wylie, was b. abt. 1701, of Donegal Co., Ire. His will is dated 14 Oct. 1778, and probabed in 1779, Mecklenburg Co., N.C. He md. Mary McIllhenny. She was b. abt. 1709, of Pennsylvania. They had nine children of record:

1. Robert Harris, b. 4 Oct. 1731, Pa.; d. 19 Jan. 1793; md. 19 Oct. 1757, Margaret Harper
* 2. Samuel Harris (see below)
3. Jeanette Harris, b. abt. 1736, Pa.

3. Lydia Harris, b. 22 Dec. 1791, Statesville, Iredell, N.C.; d. Sept. 1857; md. 7 May 1812, Thomas Stevenson.

Samuel Harris was granted a large section of land in 1758 and lived about one-half mile north of Loray, N.C. He was a member of the First Bench of Elders and Clerk of the Session of Concord Presbyterian Church. He was magistrate in North Carolina under King George of England. Later he was magistrate under the Colonial Government in the Revolutionary War, and still later under the State of N.C. after independence of the colonies was gained. His will is dated 23 Mar. 1796, and he divided 1000 acres of land among his children. He died of typhoid fever and was buried in the Concord Church Cemetery.

WILLIAM HARRIS, son of Samuel Harris and Rebecca Morrison, was b. 5 Oct. 1760, Rowan Co., N.C. He md. 20 Sept. 1784, Margaret Sloan, Rowan Co., N.C. She was b. abt. 1763, Rowan Co., N.C.; dau. of Fergus Sloan and Ann or Elizabeth Robinson. They had the following children of record:

13. Edward Harris, b. abt. 1807, near Lebanon, Wilson, Tenn.

William Harris was a genuine Scotch-Irish Presbyterian as were his ancestors for several generations. He married Margaret Sloan who was also of Scotch-Irish descent. She was a lady of great culture and education for that time. William was fond of adventure. He seemed to be the personification of strength and vigor. He was six feet three inches tall, perfectly erect, a splendid athlete, of great moral and physical courage, and loyal to his new republic.

With his restless nature William determined to go where he had room, and as he crudely expressed it, "Where he could not hear his neighbors call hogs." William took his wife from Rowan Co., N.C. and moved possibly a short time to Albermarie Co., Va., where his first two children might have been born. Later he passed through the Cumberland Gap into the rich lands of Central Kentucky in Bourbon County, where several of his children were born. Just before the turn of the century he moved to Big Springs, near Lebanon, Wilson Co., Tenn. and settled.

It was in Wilson Co., Tenn., that his son McGee Harris, for whom this genealogy has been compiled, was born, reared, and married. The following pages outline his numerous posterity.

CHAPTER II

MCGEE HARRIS AND MARY GIVENS

MCGEE HARRIS, son of William Harris and Margaret Sloan, was b. 8 Nov. 1800, near Lebanon, Wilson Co., Tenn. He d. 26 Aug. 1863, Salt Lake City, Utah, and was bur. 26 Aug. 1863, Salt Lake cem. He md. (1) 26 Dec.1826, Mary Givens, and they were the parents of eight children. He md. (2) Mary Ann Simmons, Salt Lake City, Utah. She was b. 2 Feb. 1812, Hereford, Herfordshire, England; d. 9 Aug. 1873, Pleasant Grove, Utah; bur. Salt Lake cem.; dau. of William Simmons and Elizabeth. They had no children.

McGee was born and raised on the frontier of American civilization, and it was the role of the frontiersman he lead most of his life. About in the year 1837 he moved his family to Marion, Williamson Co., Ill., where he was in possession of a large estate. McGee was a farmer and a blacksmith by trade. In 1845 he became a convert to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. He became enthused with what he called the "doctrine of Joseph Smith". He proceeded to sell and to give away his property in order to join the saints at Nauvoo. Although his parents and other relatives were critical of his action and ostracized him, yet, he left them most of his earthly possessions. He had 1280 acres of land, which he had intended to divide among his eight children. His two eldest children remained at Marion, Ill.

McGee was counseled not to go to Nauvoo because of persecutions, so he went on to Council Bluffs. The family left Illinois in the spring of 1846 and arrived in Council Bluffs in September. They crossed the Missouri River to Winter Quarters, where they stayed until the spring of 1847. About 50 families went up the river about twenty five miles, built a fort, and raised a crop to help the emigrants the next spring. Along with the other saints they suffered privations and illness. At one time the entire family except a son, William, was striken with chills and fever. Later in life, William often recounted the hardships of this experience, telling of how it kept him busy carrying drinking water to his family.

Late in May, 1848, McGee and his family left Winter Quarters for the westward journey. They were members of the Heber C. Kimball company, which consisted of 662 people and 226 wagons. They traveled by ox teams. McGee's daughter, Martha, said the company crossed the Elkhorn River on 1 June, 1848. The company arrived in Salt Lake Valley on 28 Sept. 1848. McGee and his family settled in Salt Lake City. Their first home was a wagon box, later replaced by a one room log house.

When the Latter Day Saints arrived in Salt Lake Valley a survey of blocks and lots was made, and the lots were distributed to heads of families as an inheritance. Distribution was by drawing, and property could be used for business or domestic purposes only, and could not be disposed of for pecuniary profit. McGee drew one of these lots consisting of 1¼ acres located on the north side of Fifth South, 1½ blocks west of Main Street, where the Deseret Inn now stands.

Two years after their arrival in Salt Lake Valley, McGee moved his family to Farmington, Utah, where they encountered many hardships. The scarcity of water, grasshoppers, low food supply, and Indian trouble all added to their problems. The snakes were so abundant that it was often necessary for the children to help their mother remove them from their beds before they could retire.

In 1853 McGee was called by Brigham Young with about 20 other families to settle and build up Fort Herriman, a settlement located in the extreme southwest part of Salt Lake Valley. The families of Henry Herriman, a member of the First Council of Seventy, Thomas Butterfield, John F. Stocking, and Robert C. Petty, who settled the area a year earlier, welcomed these reinforcements numbering 71 people. The houses were constructed very close together in order to make it convenient to build a fort if necessary. In 1854 a mud-wall enclosing 2½ acres was erected as protection against Indian raids.

On 11 Feb. 1855 McGee Harris was sustained as President of the Fort Herriman Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, with William Kidd and Thomas Levi Whittle as Counselors. They served under the direction of the West Jordan Ward Bishopric until the spring of 1858. The settlement was then temporarily abandoned because of the Utah War. McGee moved his family to Springville, Utah, until the Johnston's army affair was settled. He then returned to Salt Lake City until his death. He established his home at the corner of Second South and Sixth East, where the Prescott Apartments are now located.

MARY GIVENS, dau. of Robert Givens and Martha Givens, was b. 27 Feb. 1802, Stanford, Lincoln Co., Kentucky. She d. Aug. 1873, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah; bur. 9 Aug. 1873, Salt Lake City cem., Utah. She md. 26 Dec. 1826, McGee Harris.

As a girl Mary was taught thrift and industry. She helped gather flax for making linen, then spun and wove the flax into yarn. She made her own table linen and bed linen for her trousseau. She made a bed spread and embroidered it before she was sixteen. When she married her mother asked her how many sheets and pillow cases she had. When she indicated she had eighteen sheets and twenty pillow cases, her mother shook her head, went to her own linen closet, and came back with two sheets. She said, "I have counted my sheets and have 62, so I think I can spare you two of them."

Mary was a very popular young woman and had many young men come to court her. She chose McGee for her mate. They settled on a plantation, and with the help of several negroes raised cotton and tobacco. Mary was happy when her husband moved to Marion, Ill., a free state. Mary did not like the slave labor in the South.

When the missionaries of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints visited the Harris family at Marion, they were most welcome. McGee readily accepted the gospel, but Mary was slow to accept. McGee

Mary Givens

Bedspread made by Mary when 16 years old. In possession of Mrs. Florence B. Madsen, Duchesne, Utah was anxious to join the Saints. Their oldest daughter Sarah was married. Mary was determined not to leave her alone in Illinois, and she insisted that their second daughter Margaret remain with her sister.

Crossing the plains to Utah and pioneering was an ordeal for Mary. She had been used to a good home, and gentle care of a negro maid. She walked all the way across the plains, and sometimes carried her youngest child, Emily Caroline. Mary and her husband thought they were well supplied with food and clothing when they started their trek. After sharing with others, the various items reached a minimum point before they reached Salt Lake Valley. One night on the plains Mary heard a noise in one of the wagons, and it was discovered to be a few Indians. After helping themselves to food, they departed in peace. On another occasion Mary noticed a herd of buffalo in a hollow. The men were able to kill a cow.

Mary and her family lived for two years in Salt Lake City, then moved to Farmington. Here the family had trouble with Indians. On one occasion the men were away after wood. Mary was making porrage in an iron kettle over the fire. An Indian called Limpy Sam came and demanded the porrage. Mary would not give it to him, telling him it was all she had for her family. He went over to the kettle, and poured it into his dirty blanket. Mary was not to be out done, she reached for some sticks

McGee was drying to make single trees for his wagon, and hit Limpy Sam on his back and wrists. Sam ran spilling the porrage. Mary had to clean it up, but she had the satisfaction of knowing he didn't get it either.

Mary and her family moved to Fort Herriman for a few years, then to Springville, Utah; and finally settled in Salt Lake City. Her husband died in 1863. When her daughter, Emily Caroline, and family moved to Pleasant Grove, Utah, in 1870 May went to live with them. She wanted something of her own to raise now that she was in the country, so she was given a pig. She often said that the pork in Utah did not taste like it did in the South. So Mary had her pig. She was given her choice of a litter, made a pen for it, and fed it chopped corn from the granery and milk from the cows. When it was slaughtered it was smoked with corn cobs. The pork was put into a separate barrel, it was her pig. Once in awhile she would say to her daughter, "Emily, get a little of my pig for dinner today."

Mary worked with the ladies in the Relief Society. She was a very fine seamstress and assisted in many projects for the poor. She was a wonderful cook. Many women came to she how she made corn bread and grits, but somehow they never tasted like Mary's. She had trouble getting used to the high Wasatch Mountains. She always felt like she was hemmed, and wished she coulb climb the top of the highest peak to get a breath of good air. Mary was loved by her children and grandchildren; and the people of Pleasant Grove admired her.

McGee Harris and Mary Givens had the following children:

* 1. Sarah Johnson Harris, b. 8 Oct. 1827, near Lebanon, Tenn.; md. Daniel R. Pulley (see CHAPTER III, p. 13-27)

MARGARET JANE HARRIS and WILLIAM MACLIN EUBANKS family

MARGARET JANE HARRIS, dau. of McGee Harris and Mary Givens, was b. 24 May 1829, near Lebanon, Wilson Co., Tenn.; d. 22 Aug. 1853, Marion, Williamson Co., Ill. She md. 28 Jan. 1846, William Maclin Eubanks, at Marion, Ill.

When Margaret was eight years of age her parents moved to Marion, Illinois. When she was nearly seventeen years of age she married William Maclin Eubanks. They were the parents of three children. Margaret died at the early age of only twenty four years, and one of her children died two years later.

(Lt.; Judge) WILLIAM MACLIN EUBANKS, son of William Eubanks and _____, was b. 3 Sept. 1822, White Co., Ill.; d. 10 Oct. 1855, Marion, Williamson Co., Ill. He md. 28 Jan. 1846, Margaret Jane Harris, at Marion, Ill.

His father moved from one of the Southern States to White Co., Ill., in about 1818. William was one of ten children. He prepared himself as a school teacher, and was teaching at Marion, Illinois, where he met Margaret Jane Harris. He courted her and they were married soon after.

On 28 May 1847, William enlisted as a solider in the Mexican War, enlisting at Alton, Ill. He was made First Lieutenant of his company, and served until the end of the war. He was discharged on 11 Oct. 1848 at Alton, Ill. Upon his return he was elected County Judge and Circuit Clerk of Williamson County, Ill., holding both offices at the same time. He was re-elected County Judge and died while serving his second term in this office. He died at the early age of thirty three years.

Margaret Jane Harris and William Maclin Eubanks had the following children:

at Marion, Williamson Co., Illinois.

His mother died when he was only six years of age, and his father died when he was only eight years of age. William was reared by relatives and friends of the family. At the age of seventeen years he enlisted in the Civil War, enlisting on 30 Jan. 1864, and serving until the end of the war.

William was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1869 he joined the Odd Fellow Lodge, and was a Royal Arch Mason. In 1871 he attended the Northern Illinois Normal School at Bloomington for two terms. He married Emma Frances Fellows at Marion, Ill.

William was County Clerk of Williamson County from 1873 to 1877. He won the popularity and confidence of the people and succeeded himself in 1877 for a five year term in office. After the expiration of his second term he was appointed chief clerk of the United States Internal Revenue Office at Cairo, Illinois, serving four years.

William returned to Marion, Illinois, and bought a dry goods establishment of J.A. Benson, and was a successful merchant. He was a man of great business ability, was always genial, and built up a large and growing business. In about 1899 he served for four years as Secretary of the State Board of Equalization of Illinois at Springfield. After this he was appointed chief clerk in the office of Auditor of Public Accounts, and held this position for sixteen years. In Aug. 1919 he was appointed chief clerk for the Illinois Tax Commission. He died on 25 June 1924 at Springfield, and is buried there in the Oak Ridge Cemetery.

CHAPTER V

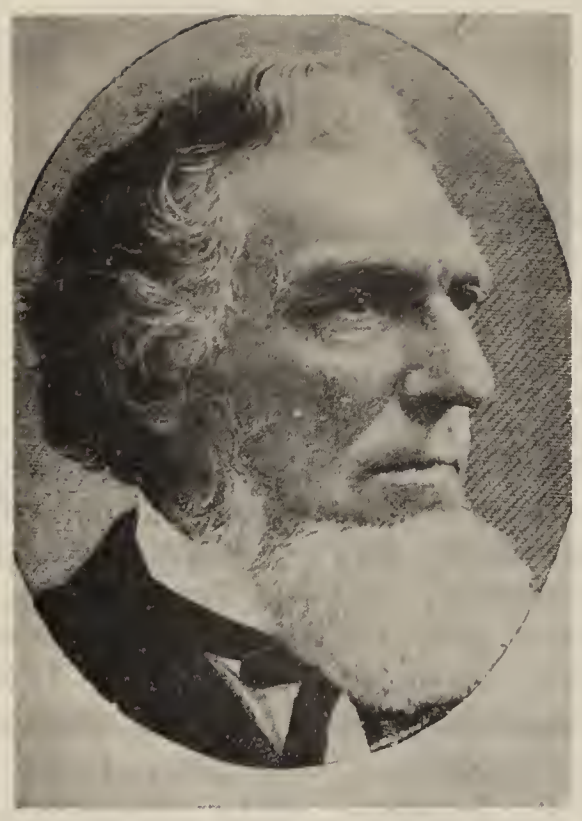
MARTHA GIVENS HARRIS and DANIEL HANMER WELLS family

MARTHA GIVENS HARRIS, dau. of McGee Harris and Mary Givens, was b. 27 Mar. 1832, near Lebanon, Wilson Co., Tenn. She d. 12 May 1908, at Salt Lake City, Utah; md. 20 Sept. 1849, Daniel Hanmer Wells, at Salt Lake City. On 9 Jan. 1900 she wrote the following concerning her early life: "I will write down a few dates of my life. Perhaps they will be of some benefit to my children some day. I was born in Lebanon, Wilson Co., Tenn., 27 Mar. 1832. We lived there until I was five years old. Then father moved our family to Illinois. We settled there in Williamson County. We lived there until the spring of 1846, having joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints a year or two previously. Father was preparing to dispose of his earthly possessions and move to Nauvoo, Ill. However, he was counseled not to go by Nauvoo, but to go straight to Council Bluffs and meet the church there. We left Illinois in the spring of 1846 and arrived in Council Bluffs in September and crossed over the Missouri River to what was then called Winter Quarters. We stayed there until the spring of 1847. About 50 families were counseled to go up the river about 25 miles and build a fort, and raise a crop to help the emigrants next spring. We did so, and in the spring of 1848 I was baptized in February in the Missouri River. The ice had to be broken. But I had recovered from a severe spell of illness and felt that if my life were spared, I would be baptized as soon as possible. In the spring of 1848 we left that place for our long journey across the plains. We came in Brigham Young's second company. We left Elkhorn River 1 June, and arrived in the valley 28 Sept. 1848. I was married to Daniel Hanmer Wells 20 Sept. 1849, one year after we arrived."

Martha was only seventeen years of age when she married. She was five feet seven inches tall, had azure blue eyes, and soft brown hair. She never had any formal education, yet she used good grammar and pronounced her words correctly. She read extensively American history and doctrines of the church. Martha was active in Relief Society work, serving as a teacher and treasurer in this organization.

Martha was an excellent cook, and noted for her hospitality. There was always a bed at her home for a traveler, and plenty of room at the dinner table for a few extra. Martha had the gift of promoting the welfare and happiness of those about her. After she had reared six of her own children, she was called upon to live with and care for eleven of her motherless grandchildren. In her later years Martha suffered from rheumatism, but seldom complained. She had an abiding faith in God, and in life after death.

DANIEL HANMER WELLS, son of Daniel Wells and Catherine Chapin, was b. 27 Oct. 1814, Trenton, Oneida Co., N.Y. He d. 24 Mar. 1891, at Salt



Daniel Hanmer Wells

Martha Givens Harris

Home of Daniel Hanmer Wells, was located on the southeast corner of Main Street and South Temple Street, Salt Lake City, Utah

Lake City, Utah; bur. 29 Mar. 1891, Salt Lake City cem. He md. 20 Sept. 1849, Martha Givens Harris.

When Daniel was twelve years of age his father died. In his late teens he and his mother and one sister moved to Ohio, and later to Hancock Co., Ill. He helped survey the city of Commerce, afterward the site of Nauvoo. He md. (1) 12 Mar. 1837, Eliza Rebecca Robinson, and built for themselves a home in this new land. Daniel was energetic, industrious, and far-sighted. He acquired large holdings of land and soon became a prominent figure in his new surroundings. He held positions of trust and honor. He was elected a Justice of Peace, thus receiving the title of Squire Wells, by which he was known throughout his life.

In 1838 and 1839 the members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints were being driven from Missouri under the mobocratic exterminating order of Governor Boggs. They were received with symphatic understanding by the people of Commerce. None gave them more hospitable treatment than Daniel Hanmer Wells. He assisted the new-comers in finding temporary homes and making permanent locations. He subdivided eighty acres of his farmon the highland above the river, and sold building lots to the new settlers. The Nauvoo Temple was built on one of these. Commerce was soon crowded with people. It was renamed Nauvoo.

Daniel assisted in the organization and maintenance of civil government. He was chosen the first alderman of the city. He was intimately acquainted with the Prophet Joseph Smith. He was not baptized a member of the church until 1846. The fact that he was not baptized until after the martyrdom, the expulsion of the Saints, and the battle of Nauvoo, was not due to lack of knowledge and faith in the new church, but to a belief that he could render better service as a non-member. Daniel was the only member of his family that joined the church. Neither his wife, son, mother, nor sister would join the church, so he crossed the plains without his family in 1848.

When Daniel arrived at Salt Lake City on 28 Sept. 1848 he was nearly thirty four years old. He was a large framed man, just under six feet tall, weighed about 210 pounds, and had a fair complexion. Soon after his arrival he married six wives, one of which was Martha Givens Harris. Daniel owned farms and orchards at Pleasant Grove and in Salt Lake Valley. He also owned sheep, lumber mills, manufactured brooms and cut nails, engaged in coal, iron, and silver mining, and associated with several other commercial institutions. He had many people in his employ.

Daniel was in the public service from his twentieth year. He was Constable, Justice of Peace, and Alderman at Nauvoo, Illinois. He was Chief Aid to President Young in the migration of the saints in 1848; and served as Superintendent of Public Works from 1848 to 1864. Daniel was a member of the Legislature and Attorney-General of the State of Deseret; and a member of the Legislative Council for the Utah Territory. He served as mayor of Salt Lake City from 1866 to 1876, and a member of the City Council during other years.

Daniel was President of the European Mission in 1864-65 and again in 1884-87. He served as Second Counselor to President Brigham Young for twenty years, from 1857-77, and Counselor to the Twelve Apostles from 1877-91. He was President of the Manti Temple from 1888 until his death. He was loved and respected by all who knew him.

Martha Givens Harris and Daniel Hanmer Wells had the folowing children:

* 1. Martha Deseret Wells, b. 18 Apr. 1853, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; md. Charles Read
* 2. Emily Harris Wells, b. 22 Apr. 1857, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; md. Heber Jeddy Grant

* 7. Briant Harris Wells, b. 5 Dec. 1871, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; md. Mary Jane Jennings.

MARTHA DESERET WELLS, dau. of Daniel Hanmer Wells and Martha Givens Harris, was b. 18 Apr. 1853, Salt Lake City, Utah. She d. 15 Jan. 1886, Salt Lake City. She md. 11 Oct. 1877, Charles Read, at Salt Lake City. Dessie enjoyed all the educational advantages that were available in the pioneer environment. She took advantage of every opportunity for self improvement. She liked to associate with cultured and educated people. One of her talents was the art of fine neddlework.

Dessie had golden hair, large blue eyes, and a beautiful figure. After her marriage herhusband provided her with one of the finest homes in Salt Lake City. Here she gathered around her the beautiful things she enjoyed, such as glassware, silver, art, and jewelry. She was a gracious and hospitable hostess. She entertained members of her family, her friends, and her husband's business associates. Martha Deseret had ill health after her first child was born. She was sweet and long suffering, but after only seven years of marriage she died, leaving her husband and one child.

CHARLES READ, son of John Read and Mary A. Barnum, was b. 26 Nov. 1846, Norwich, Norfolk, Eng. He d. 25 Sept. 1937, at Salt Lake City. He md. 11 Oct. 1877, Martha Deseret Wells, at Salt Lake City. He came to America with his brother when only sixteen years of age. Upon his arrival to Salt Lake City he secured work in the Walker's Department Store. A few years later he moved to Ogden, where the construction of the transcontinental railroad was creating a boom in business. He opened a mercantile store. After the completion of the railroad he moved to the Alta Mining District, south of Salt Lake City, and opened another mercantile business. Later this store was destroyed by fire.

Charles became interested in mining. His first promotional venture was the sale of a mine in Dry Canyon to individuals in London, Eng. Shortly afterward he became superintendent of several mining properties in Dry Canyon and Little Cottonwood Canyon southeast of Salt Lake City; and properties in Eureka, Nevada.

Charles was only married a short time when his wife Martha Deseret Wells died. Although he married twice more during his life he never fully recovered from the grief of losing his deloved Dessie. He md. (2) Lila James; and md. (3) Edythe Ellerbeck. In 1883 he helped organize with eighty other business leaders and prominent persons the Alta Club. In 1898 the present quarters of the club were constructed on South Temple and State Streets in Salt Lake City. In later life he lived at the club for many years, and died there in 1937.

EMILY HARRIS WELLS, dau. of Daniel Hanmer Wells and Martha Givens Harris, was b. 22 Apr. 1857, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 25 May 1908, Salt Lake City; bur. 27 May 1908, Salt Lake City cem. She md. 27 May 1884, Heber Jeddy Grant. Emily was born in a small adobe house directly east of the present Hotel Utah. She was taught in her youth to shun idleness. She became expert as a pie maker. During her girlhood Emily exchanged ironing for piano lessons. She was a favorite among the young people, and never lacked a beaux.

Emily attended elementary schools and later the University of Deseret, now the University of Utah. Soon after her first wedding anniversary she sailed for England where her father was serving as President of the European Mission. Her first child was born at Liverpool, Eng. Upon her return she settled in Salt Lake City. Her husband was a member of the Council of Twelve Apostles and was away from home much of the time. Emily entertained the children by reading and singing. They had a beautiful Steinway piano which was a rarity in those days. In Oct. 1903 her husband was called to preside over the European Mission. Emily had always wanted to return to England. During their three year stay the family extensively toured the British Isles and Europe. Upon their return to Salt Lake City Emily soon became ill, and died soon afterward.

(President) HEBER JEDDY GRANT, son of Jedediah Morgan Grant and Rachel Ridgeway Ivins, was b. 22 Nov. 1856, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 14 May 1945, Salt Lake City. Heber's father died when he was only eight days old. He was reared as an only child in poverty. He had a frail body, but through his persistence, against great odds, he became skilled in marbles, baseball, penmanship, and singing.

In his lifetime Heber loved and married three choice women. He md. (1) 1 Nov. 1877, Lucy Stringham, who bore him five daughters and one son. He md. (2) 26 May 1884, Augusta Winters, and had one daughter. He md. (3) 27 May 1884, Emily Harris Wells in the Salt Lake Endowment House, and had four daughters and one son. Heber had nine daughters and two sons. One son died when only four years of age, and the other one at age seven.

At the age of twenty three Heber was an insurance agent and broker in Salt Lake City. At this early age he was called to preside over the Tooele Stake. When he was twenty six he was called to the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles, and with this responsibility he traveled the world over instructing the members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. At the age of forty four in 1901 he was called to open the Japanese Mission, where he served for two years. His labors at the time were almost fruitless, but since then has become a flourishing mission. Upon his return from Japan Heber was called to preside over the British Mission from 1903 to 1906.

Heber became President of the Quorum of Twelve Apostles in his sixty second year. At the age of sixty four he became the Seventh President of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. His destiny to become Prophet, Seer, and Revelator had been foreshadowed by several manifestations, some even in his boyhood. A few of the significant steps made in the Church during his administration are as follows: procurement of eastern support for Church Corporations; establishment of the Improvement Era magazine; expansion of the sugar industry; opening of the Japanese Mission and the development of the British Mission; establishment of the nationwide Tabernacle Choir broadcast on radio; dedication of three temples; and the establishment of the Welfare Program of the Church.

Heber Jeddy Grant was a living example of honesty and integrity. Twice he was more than $100,000 in debt, but through many aching years he lived to pay off all his debts. For fifty years of his life a sixteen to twenty hour day was more the rule than the exception. He often did a prodigious labor in the middle of the night, writing thousands of letters via dictaphone in the darkness of his bedroom. His generosity of time and energy to all who sought him has been noted, but he is equally noted with his financial gifts. No record has been kept, but it is estimated that he gave close to a million dollars to the needy in and beyond the church. He gave hundreds of autographed books to members and non-members of the church. His own writings are numerous and inspiring.

President Grant suffered severe handicaps, both physical and psychic; yet, he overcame all obstacles and is revered by all who knew him. He lived to be eighty eight and one-half years old. He died in Salt Lake City in 1945 and was buried at the local cemetery.

(Governor) HEBER MANNING WELLS, son of Daniel Hanmer Wells and Martha Givens Harris, was b. 11 Aug. 1859, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co.; Utah; d. 12 Mar. 1938, Salt Lake City; bur. 15 Mar. 1938, Salt Lake City cem. He md. (1) 15 Jan. 1880, Mary Elizabeth Beatie; md. (2) 16 Oct. 1892, Theresa Clawson; md. (3) 5 June 1901, Emily Katz.

Heber received his education in the Salt Lake City schools, and at the University of Deseret, now the University of Utah. In 1882 he became Salt Lake City Recorder and was reelected for three successive terms until 1890. He served two terms as a member of the Board of Public Works, and in 1887 was made secretary of the Constitutional Convention, and later was a member of the convention in 1895. Heber was a brilliant conversationalist and speaker. As a young man he was a prominent actor, and was one of the organizers of the Home Dramatic Club which played in the old Salt Lake Theater.

When Utah was actively seeking statehood, Heber became associated with the Republican Party, and in 1895 was elected the first Governor of the new State of Utah. The change from territorial to state government took place on 6 Jan. 1896. At the close of his first five years as governor he was reelected for a second term of four years. He retired as governor in 1905 leaving the State without a deficit. He then became managing director of the Utah Savings and Trust Company. He was also director of the Brigham Young Trust Company and the Consolidated Wagon and Machine Company.

Governor Wells returned to public office again in 1913 when he was made City Commissioner of Parks and Public Property. Not long after, he became a special officer in the United States Internal Revenue Bureau in San Francisco, California. He returned to Salt Lake City in 1919 to accept an editorial position with the Salt Lake Herald.

In 1920 Heber left Utah for Washington, D.C. to take a position with the Bureau of Efficiency. Eight months later he was appointed assistant treasurer of the United States Shipping Board Fleet Corporation, and four years later was made treasurer. He served in that capacity until 1933, when he retired. He returned to Utah in April, 1955, and was associated with the editorial staff of the Deseret News. He died of a stroke in 1938 at Salt Lake City.

MARY ELIZABETH BEATIE, dau. of Hampton Beatie and Marion Thankful Mumford, was b. 9 Dec. 1861, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 13 Oct. 1888, Salt Lake City. She md. 15 Jan. 1880, Heber Manning Wells, in the Salt Lake Endowment House.

Mary Elizabeth was a daughter of pioneer parents. She was reared in a well ordered and cultured home. She was an unusually beautiful girl, with dark eyes and black hair. She was twenty years of age when she was married. She was the mother of three children, all of which died unmd. Mary died when she was only twenty seven, and left a child only two weeks old.

THERESA CLAWSON, dau. of Hiram Bradley Clawson and Margaret Gay Judd, was b. 6 Oct. 1855, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 29 July 1897, Salt Lake City. She md. (1) William Little; md. (2) Laren Cummings; md. (3) 16 Oct. 1892, Heber Manning Wells, in Manti Temple, Sanpete Co., Utah.

Both Theresa's father and mother had a prominent role in the development of drama in Utah. Theresa was a born actress. She had great talent and good training. When the Home Dramatic Club was formed in 1880 she became one of the leading ladies. Her stage name was Birdie Clawson.

After her marriage of Governor Wells, she became a great assest to him, and helped him over several crises. She worked hard for his election and thrilled when he was elected the first Governor of Utah. She was not only a devoted wife, but also a charming mother. Not long after her husband's election Theresa went with him to Denver on a business trip. Soon after their return she became ill, suffered for ten months, and died. She left two small children.

EMILY KATZ, da. of Alma Katz and Annette Player, was b. 8 Jan. 1871, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 14 June 1959, Salt Lake City. She md. 5 June 1901, Heber Manning Wells, in Salt Lake City. She attended the St. Mark's School, which later became the Rowland Hall School for girls. Her family were all Episcopalians. Emily was reared in Salt Lake City until 1887, when the family went to Tacoma, Washington for a few years. Emily returned to Utah and became the Society Editor of the Herald Republican in Salt Lake City.

Emily had a brilliant mind, and a keen sense of humor. She served as chairman of the Children's Parade in 1897 celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of the entrance of the pioneers into Salt Lake Valley. After her marriage she gave up her position as Society Editor and settled down to make a home, and assist her husband who was Governor of the State of Utah. They had two sons. She was crippled for many years from an automobile accident. She lived to be eighty seven years of age.

JOSEPH SMITH WELLS, son of Daniel Hanmer Wells and Martha Givens Harris, was b. 25 May 1862, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 18 Oct. 1916, Salt Lake City, Utah. He md. (1) 14 Oct. 1888, Anna Elizabeth Sears; md. (2) 20 June 1907, Mamie Ely Lovell.

Joseph received his education in Salt Lake City, and was especially qualified for clerical and secretarial work. He was called on a mission to England in 1885 and served until 1887. Soon after his return he md. Anna Elizabeth Sears in the Logan Temple. He was employed by the Ogden Branch of Z.C.M.I. as a bookkeeper, and also served in the Insurance Office of Heber J. Grant and Company. He became associated with the Utah Light and Railway Company in 1889, and became secretary of the Salt Lake City Railway Company. In 1891 he became the company's secretary and treasurer. In 1901 he was chosen as secretary and treasurer of the Consolidated Railway and Power Company. In 1904 he was vice-president and cashier of the Utah Light and Railway Company, and in 1906 became its general manager. His family took advantage of free transportation on the street cars and enjoyed picnics at Saltair, Fort Douglas, and other picnic areas in Salt Lake City.

His wife suddenly became ill, and died shortly afterward at the hospital. Joseph's sister, Edna, and his mother came to live with the family for a few years. Joseph then married Mamie Ely Lovell in the Salt Lake Temple. They had four children. In 1916 he took his family to the State Fair. It rained and they all got wet. The next day Joseph was stricken with pneumonia, and died at his residence.

ANNA ELIZABETH SEARS, dau. of John Sears and Warah Wagstaff, was b. 21 Dec. 1864, Sawtry, Hunts., England; d. 1 June 1903, Salt Lake City, Utah. She md. 14 Oct. 1888, Joseph Smith Wells, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah. Anna's parents were converted to the church, and they immigrated to Salt Lake City when Anna was a baby. She was reared in Salt Lake City. She md. 14 Oct. 1888, Joseph Smith Wells, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah. They first lived in Ogden, but soon moved to Salt Lake City.

Anna was an excellent manager of the home; she was a good cook and an excellent seamstress. She not only made the families clothes, but also helped other people to sew. In 1899 they moved into her husbands's mothers home, which was much more spacious for their growing family. Anna's few years in her new home were saddened by the illness of her third child who had rheumatic fever. One day Anna became violently ill. She was rushed to the hospital, but died a few days later of peritonitis.

MAMIE ELY LOVELL, dau. of John Edmund Lovell and Harriet Lyman, was b. 6 Aug. 1884, Oak City, Millard Co., Utah; d. 18 July 1942, Salt Lake City, Utah; bur. 21 July 1942, Oak City bem. She md.(1) 20 Jun 1907, Joseph Smith Wells, in Salt Lake Temple, Utah. She md. (2) 12 June 1923, Lorenzo Turner Lovell.

After Mamie completed the eighth grade she attended the Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah. In the fall of 1903 she taught school for one year at Oak City. In the winter of 1904 she attended school in Provo again. She took a course in Nursing and Obstetrics, and passed the State examination in the spring of 1905. In July of the same year she entered the L.D.S. Hospital Training School for Nurses in Salt Lake City. While here she met Joseph Smith Wells who was visiting a patient at the hospital.

Mamie served as a special nurse to Joseph's son in Jan. 1907. This relationship blossomed into a romance between Mamie and Joseph. They became engaged and were married in the Salt Lake Temple. Mamie helped raise Joseph's children by his first marriage, and had four children of her own. After nine years of marriage her husband died. This was a trying time for Mamie and she was physically ill for a few months.

In the fall of 1917 Mamie sold her home and returned to Oak City. In 1919 she visited Hawaii and returned home with her step-son who had been on a mission there. In the fall of 1921 she moved back to Salt Lake City for two years. She married her cousin Lorenzo Turner Lovell, and had two children. They lived at Oak City. Mamie was a leader and held many positions in the church. She served as mid-wife and nurse to people miles around Oak City. She died of cancer at Salt Lake City, Utah.

EDNA MARGARET WELLS, dau. of Daniel Hanmer Wells and Martha Givens Harris, was b. 5 July 1869, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 5 July 1935, Salt Lake City; bur. 7 July 1935, Salt Lake City cem. She md. 3 Nov. 1892 Thomas Watts Sloan, in Manti Temple, Sanpete Co., Utah.

Edna was the youngest daughter of the large Wells family. She was born amidst the fanfare of a Fourth of July celebration, since this day fell on Sunday, and the celebration was on Monday. Edna had a keen mind and never missed an opportunity to improve herself. She was an artist and did much to advance the study and appreciation of art, music, and poetry. For many years she took first prize at the Utah State Fair for her water color of violets. She also painted sego lilies and brought before the public the beauty of the State flower. At the request of her Harris cousins, she designed the wrapper for the Sego Milk can. When Edna was sixteen she graduated from the University of Utah. After her graduation she obtained a position at the County Court House, where she wrote records in beautiful and legible penmanship.

Before the first month of her marriage was over, Thomas was called on a two year mission. Edna took over her husband's position at the Utah State Bank where he was a bookkeeper. A year after his return from the mission they had their only child. Edna and her small family lived alone only two years, since it fell her lot to assist in caring for several of her brother's and sister's orphaned children.

Edna entertained her friends with gracious hospitality. Among those who came often were members of the "Cleofan" and her "Sewing Club". Among Edna's many gifts was her quick wit and sense of humor. In her later life, she took courses in short story writing. Some of the stories she wrote about her girlhood days would doubtless have been published if she had lived longer. They were full of human interest and usually had "O. Henry" endings. She signed hers, "by O. Henrietta".

Edna was an active member of the church, and worked diligently for many years as the secretary of the 18th Ward Relief Society. Her books were in perfect order and a joy to behold. She visited the poor often. She had unusual tact and never offended.

After her husband's death, she sold her home and lived in Cambridge, Mass. and Salt Lake City, Utah. The last years she lived in her homelike, attractive apartment on First Avenue. People flocked around her. She had a cheerful, sweet disposition. Edna died on her 66th birthday in Salt Lake City, Utah. She was dearly loved, and mourned by all who knew her.

THOMAS WATTS SLOAN, son of Edward Lennox Sloan and Phebe Louisa Watts, was b. 17 Apr. 1868, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 1 Jan. 1918, Salt Lake City, Utah. He md. 3 Nov. 1892, Edna Margaret Wells, in Manti Temple, Sanpete Co., Utah.

Thómas's father died when he was a child, too young to remember him. Tom went to work when he was but a lad of ten years of age to help his mother. When he was twenty-four years old he left for the Southern States mission, where he served for over two years. He spent his time in Tenn., where he became President of the East Tennessee Conference. After his return home he continued to do church work all his life. His contribution to the Young Men's MIA in the Salt Lake City 18th Ward was outstanding. His last position was Superintendent of the organization.

Tom was always by his wife's side to help her and comfort her as various members of her family died. He did much to entertain his nieces and nephews, took them to dances and amusements, and helped with financial problems. His sister and mother were his concern and responsibility from the first day he work as a lad.

Tom was a great believer in keeping records and in education. He had several hobbies, probably his favorite was photography. He lived before the day of colored film and movie cameras, but he had the finest camera money could buy at that time. He loved his victorola and beautiful classical records. Tom worked as a bookkeeper and secretary for the Utah State Bank, Heber J. Grant Insurance Co., Salt Lake Herald, and Zion's Benefit Building Society.

(Major General) BRIANT HARRIS WELLS, son of Daniel Hanmer Wells and Martha Givens Harris, was b. 5 Dec. 1871, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 10 June 1949, Long Beach, Los Angeles Co., Calif.; bur. at Arlington National Cemetary, Virginia. He md. 30 Dec. 1896, Mary Jane Jennings, in Salt Lake Temple, Utah.

At the age of sixteen Briant entered the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, New York, and graduated in 1894. He was first assigned to the Second Infantry with the station at Fort Omaha, Neb. In 1896 he went on leave to Salt Lake City, at which time he was married. Upon his return he was sent to Fort Yates, North Dakota, where the Second Infantry had charge of the reservation for the Sioux Indians.

In 1898 he was engaged in the liberation of Cuba and participated in the Santiago campaign. He received a Spanish Mauser slug that lodged in his body and was not disclosed until thirty five years later by X-ray. No sooner was the wound healed over than Briant was ordered to the Philippine Islands with the Eighteenth Infantry to quell the Insurrection. When the guerrillas stopped fighting he returned to Fort Douglas, Utah. After a short tour of duty in Utah, he returned again to the Philippine Islands, and lived at Ilo Ilo on the Island of Panay. The United States decided to organize some additional regiments and Briant returned to Fort Douglas to the new Twenty Ninth Infantry. In 1906 he returned the third time to the Philippine Islands, this time to the luxurious Fort McKinley near Manila.

In 1909 the Twenty Ninth Infantry went to the East Coast of United States, and Briant was assigned to Governors Island in New York Harbor. In 1915 he was assigned to duty in Panama, and in 1916 returned to United States and helped organize and operate a summer encampment in New York State. With declaration of war in April 1917 Briant was sent to Washington, D.C. He was assigned to draft plans to mobilize, train, and send overseas an army of over a million men. In the fall of 1917 he went to Camp Lee, Virginia, to assist in the training. In Jan. 1918 he was assigned to the staff of General Tasker H. Bliss who was the U.S. representative to the Allied Supreme War Council in Versailles, France. General Bliss sent him as Liason Officer to Marshall Foch, the Allied Generalissimo.

Briant soon returned to troop duty. He was made Brigadier General during the World War I. He was made Chief of Staff of the new U.S. Sixth Corps, where he planned and participated in the battles of Woevre and St. Mihiel, France. When the Sixth Corps was inactivated he became Chief of Staff of the Fourth Corps and finished out the war; then moved into the Army of Occupation in Germany. In 1919 he returned to Washington, D. C. and served as first Chief of War Plans Division in the War Department. After the war his general rank was taken from him. In 1923 he was again made a general, rank of Brigadier General, and sent to Fort Benning, the Infantry School, where he revamped its training and improved the fort. The Briant H. Wells Field House, erected after World War II, pays tribute to his influence on the Infantry and on Fort Benning.

In 1926 Briant was recalled to Washington, D.C. He served as Assistant Chief of Staff in Charge of Supply for the War Department. In 1928 he was assigned Deputy Chief of Staff, and promoted to Major General. In 1930 he went to Fort Hamilton, New York, to command the First Division. In the fall he went to Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, to command the Hawaiian Div. In one year he was in charge of Fort Shafter in Hawaii, where he completed his military career. He retired after forty four years of service in Jan. 1935. At the age of sixty three he received an offer from the Trustees of the Hawaiian Sugar Planter's Association to become its Secretary-Treasurer, and served for ten years. He died while visiting his sone in Long Beach, California; and was buried in Arlington National Cemetery, Virginia.

MARY JANE JENNINGS, dau. of Thomas Walker Jennings and Mary Ann Hooper, was b. 10 Mar. 1877, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 22 Oct. 1959; Honolulu, Oahu, Hawaii; bur. in Arlington National Cemetery, Virginia. She md. 30 Dec. 1896, Briant Harris Wells, in Salt Lake Temple.

Mary Jane was reared in a home of wealth and cultural refinement. She was taught all the skills of management of a large home, and learned to cook and sew. After her marriage she adjusted well to army life, and became a devoted supporter of her husband. She was frequently called upon to entertain guests, which she did with elegance and ease. She was hostess to the top officers in the United States Army, and to the nations high officials. She traveled the world over with her husband in his army assignments. Mary had thirty eight different homes during her married life.

Mary loved the army. She managed on her husband's meager salary when first married. For years she made the clothes for her children. She was an expert judge of oriental rugs, furniture, chinaware, silverware, and linen. As her husband's salary increased with his promotions, she surrounded herself with lovely material things. Mary gloried all her life in the fact that she could adjust to every circumstance. This was proved when she had a baby in the Philippines under trying conditions. All through her life Mary was generous with her knowledge of the arts and sciences of household management and home making. She often built the morale of many homesick young wife, by showing them how to make curtains out of sheets, drape a couch, make a dress, care for a baby, or cook a well balanced meal. The lost nineteen years of her married life were spent in Hawaii, where they had a lovely home. In 1959 she was working in her garden, and without warnin she dropped dead among the flowers she loved.

Mary had been in very deed a helpmate to her husband, and an ideal army wife. She brought her children up to be well respected, honorable citizens, and to carry on the traditions of their illustrious ancestros, as Mary had done.

CHAPTER VI

ALEXANDER HARRIS and HARRIET ANN CRANER family

ALEXANDER HARRIS, son of McGee Harris and Mary Givens, was b. 25 Mar. 1834, near Lebanon, Wilson Co., Tenn.; d. 20 Feb. 1889 Mound Valley (now Cleveland), Franklin Co., Idaho; bur. 24 Feb. 1889, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah. He md. (1) 21 June 1855, Harriet Ann Craner, at Salt Lake City, Utah; md. (2) June 1875, Martha Craner (see Chapter VII).

Alexander was but a lad when his parents moved from Tennessee to Marion, Williamson Co., Ill. His parents were converted to the church while resideing at Marion. They moved to Winter Quarters, Neb., in the summer of 1846; and began their westward trek in May, 1848. The arrived in Salt Lake Valley in September. They settled for a short time in Salt Lake City; then in Farmington, and later at Fort Herriman.

Alexander was one of the men sent to meet the Hand Cart Company that was stranded in the snow in Wyoming. The provisions they were able to get to the company saved many lives. He also participated in the Indian war at Battle Creek near Preston, Idaho. He moved from Fort Herriman to Springville, Utah, in 1858, and then to Richmond in 1860.

Alexander and his son, Alexander, Jr., operated a freight train of wagons from Corinne, Utah, to Butte, Montana. They each had two wagons, one trailed behind the other, with 16 head of mules to each train. This was a strenuous trip over rocks and creeks. There were no roads. At that time there were many Indians and outlaws roaming the country, and they were always on the alert. It was on one of these trips that his wife Harriet died.

Alexander then moved in 1874 to Gentile Valley, now called Thatcher, Idaho. In 1875 he married his wife's widowed sister, Martha Craner. Alexander had ten children by his first wife, Martha had four children by her deceased husband, George Tanner. Alexander and Martha had six children. They settled at Mound Valley. Alexander had a large herd of cattle. They were grazed at Greys Lake in the summer where Alexander had a large ranch. Alexander was a successful rancher, and a kind and loving father.

HARRIET ANN CRANER, dau. of George Benjamin Craner and Elizabeth West, was b. 26 Apr. 1834, Maxstoke, Warwick, Eng.; d. 15 Sept. 1874, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; bur. at Richmond. She md. 21 June 1855, Alexander Harris.

Harriet's parents were converted to the church in England. They set sail for America on 22 Feb. 1854, and had many harrowing experiences at sea. They arrived at New Orleans 23 Apr. 1854, and their company went on to Kansas City. Harriet's father died on the Kansas plains. Her mother and four children arrived at Salt Lake City on 10 Oct. 1854. They resided at the home of George Craner, a son who had come to America two years previously. Harriet met Alexander Harris, who courted her, and they were married in Salt Lake City. They were the parents of ten children. She was an excellent housekeeper, mother, and wife. She had a fine team of horses and a surrey which she drove about town. She died suddenly in 1874 at Richmond, and left a five weeks old baby.

Alexander Harris and Harriet Ann Craner had issue:

* 1. Alexander Harris, Jr., b. 4 Sept. 1856, Fort Herriman, Utah; md. Josephine Octavia Ann Weaver

* 2. Harriet Ann Harris, b. 18 Mar. 1858, Fort Herriman, Utah; md. Ira Hogan

* 3. Mary Elizabeth Harris, b. 31 Dec. 1859, Springville, Utah; md. Lars Christensen

* 4. Martha Caroline Harris, b. 27 Sept. 1862, Richmond, Utah; md. Martin Pond

5. George McGee Harris, b. 10 Jan. 1864, Richmond, Utah; d. 12 Jan. 1864; unmd.

6. Emily Deseret Harris (twin), b. 10 Jan. 1864, Richmond, Utah; d. 2 Feb. 1864; unmd.

* 7. John Walter Harris, b. 25 Apr. 1868, Richmond, Utah; md. Ada May Sterrett

* 8. William Frederick Harris, b. 27 June 1869, Richmond, Utah; md. (1) Ida Matilda Hansen; md. (2) Alice Smith Sant

* 9. Emma Arminta Harris, b. 2 Sept. 1872, Richmond, Utah; md. Simeon Ralph Sterrett
*10. Gertrude Harris, b. 9 Aug. 1874, Richmond, Utah; md. Albert Medford.

ALEXANDER HARRIS, JR., son of Alexander Harris and Harriet Ann Craner, was b. 4 Sept. 1856, Fort Herriman, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 20 Mar. 1937, Logan, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 24 Mar. 1937, Thatcher, Franklin Co., Idaho. He md. 14 July 1877, Josephine Octavia Ann Weaver, at Richmond, Cache Co., Utah.

Alexander's parents moved to Salt Lake City for a few years, then in 1860 moved to Richmond, Utah. As a young man he drove a freight wagon with 16 head of mules from Corinne, Utah to Butte, Montana. When he was twenty years of age he moved with his father's family to Thatcher, Idaho. Here he met Josephine and courted her, and later were married. They homesteaded land near Thatcher, and also purchased some additional land. They began ranching with a pair of mules and one cow. In 1879 he helped build the railroad from Soda Springs to Bancroft. He slowly cleared his land, and planted it into grain. In 1888 he built his family a large two-story home.

Alexander bought cattle for his cousin, Heber Manning Wells, and raised them on shares. He soon began to prosper and bought an adjoining ranch, which made about twelve hundred acres in all. Through hard work Alexander became wealthy, and contributed liberally to the community.

He served as a Counselor in the Thatcher Ward Bishopric for several years. He was Superintendent of the Sunday School, and was on the High Council. At the age of fifty he sold his cattle and divided his ranch among his children. He bought stocks and bonds and moved to Bancroft, Idaho, where he built a large rooming house and a theatre.

Alexander was elected County Commissioner. Later he became President of the First National Bank of Grace and Bancroft, where he labored until his health began to fail. He moved to Logan, and worked in the temple for a short time before his death.

HARRIET ANN HARRIS, dau. of Alexander Harris and Harriet Ann Craner, was b. 18 Mar. 1858, Fort Herriman, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 11 Spet. 1906, Thatcher, Franklin Co., Idaho. She md. 12 Oct. 1875, Ira Hogan, in Salt Lake Endowment House, Utah. They had nine children.

When a child her father moved to Springville, Utah, then in 1860 moved to Gentile Valley, now known as Thatcher, Idaho. She was a tall, slender woman with bright red hair and blue eyes. Her disposition was happy and jovial and radiated it to all in her presence.

Harriet and her husband lived in Richmond after their marriage. In about 1881 they moved to Thatcher, Idaho, and purchased a ranch. They were among the first settlers in this area. Harriet was active in the church. She was not a strong woman, and the rigors of life took their toll. She died just one year after her husband.

IRA HOGAN, son of Goudy Hogan and Bergetta Nelson, was b. 24 Nov. 1854, Bountiful, Davis Co., Utah; d. 17 Apr. 1905, Salt Lake City, Utah. He md. 12 Oct. 1875, Harriet Ann Harris. During the first years of marriage they lived in Richmond, Utah; later moving to Thatcher, Idaho, where he operated a ranch. In addition, Ira had a freighting business from Corinne, Utah to Butte, Montana for many years. In 1904 he and several others incorporated the Gentile Valley Land and Cattle Company. At the present time the company owns 15,000 acres of rich grazing land. There are now seventeen stock holders, who have over 3,000 head of cattle.

Ira was active in church work. In Feb. 1892 he was called to be a Counselor in the Bishopric of the Thatcher Ward. On 24 July 1898 he was sustained as Bishop of the Ward, and served until his death. The Thatcher Ward meeting house was built when Ira was serving as Bishop. When only fifty years of age he was stricken with pneumonia and died.

MARY ELIZABETH HARRIS, dau. of Alexander Harris and Harriet Ann Craner, was b. 31 Dec. 1859, Springville, Utah Co., Utah; d. 21 Mar. 1893, Thatcher, Franklin Co., Idaho; bur. at Thatcher. She md. 28 Apr. 1879, Lars Christensen, in Gentile Valley, Caribou Co., Idaho.

Shortly after the birth of Mary Elizabeth, her parents moved to Richmond, Utah; where she spent her early childhood. Her mother died in 1874 and her father moved his family to Gentile Valley, Idaho. Mary helped on the farm and helped with the children, until her marriage. For a short time after her marriage Mary and Lars lived with his parents at Lago; later they moved into their own home. In 1883 Lars moved his family to Henry, Idaho, where they pioneered the area. The winters were severe, and all provisions needed by the family were brought in by ox team in the fall to last through the winter.

In the fall of 1891 Mary and her family moved back to Gentile Valley, later called Thatcher, Idaho. Lars owned a large tract of land joining his father-in-law, upon which he built a large seven room home. The family moved into the new quarters in the fall of 1892. It was a joy for all to be in such a fine home, and to be near to relatives. In 1893 Mary gave birth to her eighth child. She developed blood poisening, and died when the child was only three weeks old.

LARS CHRISTENSEN, son of Knud Christian Christensen and Mary Ann Bertelsen, was b. 10 Sept. 1856, Bukkjaer, Hjorring, Denmark; d. 10 Dec. 1905, Thatcher, Franklin Co., Idaho; bur. at Thatcher. He md. 28 Apr. 1879, Mary Elizabeth Harris, in Gentile Valley, Caribou Co., Idaho.

In 1867 Lars and his parents immigrated to America. They sailed from Liverpool, England, on an old sailing ship. They were on the Atlantic Ocean for two months. After landing at New York the family went to Nebraska, where they lived for two years. They then went to Utah on the first train to enter Ogden, Utah. Lars and his parents moved to Lago, Idaho. Here Lars met and courted Mary Elizabeth Harris. They lived with his parents for a short time after their marriage, then moved to their own place at Lago for a few years.

In 1883 Lars took his family to a desolate section on the Blackfoot River, about twenty miles north of Soda Springs. Only three other families lived in this small settlement. It later was named Henry, Idaho. In 1891 he moved his family back to Thatcher, Idaho. Lars devoted his life to his family, and reared them on a large ranch. He raised cattle, horses, pigs, sheep, and chickens. His farm produced alfalfa, grains, fruits, and vegetables. Lars was a noble man, strickly honest, humble, and kind. He died at his home in Thatcher, and was buried at the local cemetery.

MARTHA CAROLINE HARRIS, dau. of Alexander Harris and Harriet Ann Craner, was b. 27 Sept. 1862, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 1 Feb. 1946, Logan, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 5 Feb. 1946, Richmond, Utah. She md. 14 Dec. 1881, Martin Pond, at Thatcher, Franklin Co., Idaho.

Martha received all the schooling available at that time in Richmond, Utah. She helped her father and mother on the farm. Her mother died when she was only twelve years of age. She assisted her two older sisters to keep house for the family. They moved to Thatcher, Idaho, where their father bought a ranch. When she was fourteen she left home to make her own living. She went to Salt Lake City and did housework for an aunt. When she was nineteen she married Martin Pond. They lived a Thatcher for a few years, then moved to Lewiston, Utah.

Martha was the mother of ten children. She was hard-working, kind, and devoted wife and mother. Martha was prominent in church activities. She served in the Relief Society organization and the Mutual. Later when she moved to Logan, she was an active temple worker. Martha died in Logan, Utah, and was buried at Richmond, Utah.

Martin spent his youth in Richmond, Utah, then his family moved to Thatcher, Idaho. After his marriage he moved to Richmond, where Martin was in partnership with three of his brothers on a farm at Lewiston. In 1883 Martin moved his family back to Thatcher where the four Pond brothers had bought a large cattle ranch. In 1892 Martin returned to Lewiston, where he bought a ranch of his own.

Martin served as Mayor of Lewiston, and was instrumental in getting electric power and culinary water to the city. He was one of the foremost builders of Cache Valley. He served as President of the Lewiston State Bank, a director of the Cache Valley Bank, and President of the Cache Valley Hospital. He was one of the organizers of the Morning Milk Company.

In 1920 Martin's health was failing, so he moved to Logan to retire. He and his wife bought a lovely home where all the relatives from far and near were always welcome. He died at Logan after a lengthy illness and was buried at Richmond in the family plot.

JOHN WALTER HARRIS, son of Alexander Harris and Harriet Ann Craner, was b. 25 Apr. 1868, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 22 Feb. 1925, Soda Springs, Caribou Co., Idaho; bur. at Bancroft, Caribou Co., Idaho. He md. 7 Jan. 1892, Ada May Sterrett, at Soda Springs, Caribou Co., Idaho.

Walter was reared in Richmond; when he was old enough he accompanied his father on freighting trips to Montana. After his mother's death in 1874 the family moved to Mound Valley, Idaho, where his father farmed and raised cattle. After his father's death in 1880, John and his brother, and two sisters, moved to a small home the boys built. On occasions they attended dances held at Soda Springs. It was here that he became acquainted with Ada May Sterrett, and later they married.

Walter and his wife lived in Gentile Valley in a small log house; they raised hay and cattle. John went on a mission in 1899 and served for two years in the Southern States. A short time after his return he moved his family to Henry, Idaho, where John Walter bought about 500 acres of land. He raised hay and cattle, and would take carloads to the markets at Kansas City and Chicago. In 1909 he sold his ranch and lived at Salt Lake City for a short time. He then bought a dry farm near Bancroft, Idaho, where he resided until his death.

ADA MAY STERRETT, dau. of William Wilson Sterrett and Sarh Ann Oakey, was b. 25 Nov. 1873, Paris, Bear Lake Co., Idaho; d. 14 May 1961, Logan, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 17 May 1961, Bancroft, Caribou Co., Ida. She md. 7 Jan. 1892, John Walter Harris, at Soda Springs, Caribou Co., Idaho. When Ada was twelve years of age her mother separated from her father, and she was reared by her step-mother. After her marriage she was a great assistance to her husband in his farming and ranching activities. After his death she went to Paris, Idaho, to care for her own mother. She lived at Paris for ten years, until her own health was impaired. She then lived with her children until her death.

WILLIAM FREDERICK HARRIS, son of Alexander Harris and Harriet Ann Craner, was b. 27 June 1869, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 29 Dec. 1935, Ashton, Fremont Co., Idaho; bur. 2 Jan. 1936, Ashton, Idaho. He md. (1) Ida Matilda Hansen, at Henry, Caribou Co., Idaho; md. (2) Alice Smith Sant, 21 Dec. 1924, at Pocatello, Bannock Co., Idaho. Alice was b. 8 Feb. 1880, Oneida Co., Idaho; d. 2 Aug. 1938, Idaho Falls, Bonneville Co., Idaho; bur. 4 Aug. 1938, Lago, Caribou Co., Idaho. No issue.

William was a lover of the out-of-doors; and was an excellent horseman. He worked for several cattlemen, and was considered one of the best ropers of cattle in the area. He married Ida Matilda Hansen, and had seven children. He owned a ranch at Henry, Idaho, which he operated until 1905, when he moved his family to Grand Forks, British Columbia, Canada. In 1906 he left Ida and the family in Canada, returning to Idaho where he obtained a divorce. He later went into the grocery and meat business with his son at Bancroft, Idaho.

In 1924 he married Alice Smith Sant. They had no children. William moved to Ashton, Idaho, where he was engaged in business until his death. He died at Ashton and was buried in the local cemetery.

IDA MATILDA HANSEN, dau. of Lars Hansen and Matilda Christofferson, was b. 5 Nov. 1875, Ten Mile Springs, near Soda Springs, Caribou Co., Idaho; d. 16 May 1946, Arlington, Snohomish Co., Washington; bur. at Ephrata, Grant Co., Washington. She md. (1) William Frederick Harris, 5 Nov. 1890, at Henry, Caribou Co., Idaho; md. (2) 1911, Edwin John Brown.

Ida was reared at Ten Mile Springs where she assisted her parents on the ranch. After her marriage to William Frederick Harris they moved to Henry, Idaho, where they worked together on their ranch. Ida and her family moved to British Columbia. One year later her marriage was broken by divorce. In 1911 she married Edwin John Brown. He was an engineer and they moved from place to place following his work. In 1940 they moved to Arlington, Wash., where they made their home on a small farm. They had two children. Ida died at Arlington, and was buried at Ephrata, Wash.

EMMA ARMINTA HARRIS, dau. of Alexander Harris and Harriet Ann Craner, was b. 2 Sept. 1872, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 6 Aug. 1959, Ashland, Jackson Co., Oregon. She md. 27 Apr. 1892, Simeon Ralph Sterrett, at Soda Springs, Caribou Co., Idaho.

Emma's mother died when she was only two years of age. Not long after this her father moved this family to Mound Valley, Idaho. Emma was reared by her older sister, Harriet Ann. When she was fifteen years of age she went to Tooele, Utah, and lived for one year with her uncle, George Craner. While at Tooele she learned dressmaking, cutting, and fitting. When she returned to Mound Valley she did sewing for people of the area.

Emma's father died when she was sixtteen. Emma, her two brothers, and a sister moved to themselves, and built a home where they resided together. She attended school for one year at the college in Logan, Utah. After her marriage she and her husband moved to Wyoming for a few months. They returned to Soda Springs for a short time, then in the spring of 1893 moved to Cove, Idaho.

Emma was active in the church from the time she was married. She served as a Sunday School teacher, worked on the Mutual Board, and was President of the Primary. Just after her fifth child was born her husband was called on a mission to the Central States for twenty seven months. When her husband returned thev moved to Pocatello for four years, then moved to Conda, Idaho. She was President of the Relief Society in Conda. Emma and her husband moved to Oakland, California, when his health began to fail. After World War II they moved to Ashland, Oregon, and purchased a home. In 1952 theycelebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Emma died in 1959 at Ashland and was buried in the local cemetery.

SIMEON RALPH STERRETT, son of William Wilson Sterrett and Sarah Ann Oakey, was b. 1 Mar. 1870, Paris, Bear Lake Co., Idaho; d. 22 May 1956, Ashland, Jackson, Oregon. He md. 27 Apr. 1892, Emma Arminta Harris, at Soda Springs, Caribou Co., Idaho.

When Simeon was one year old his father moved his family to Soda Springs, Idaho. He attended school during the winter months when it was in session. When thirteen he herded horses, and became an expert rider, and broke horses for many ranchers. As a young man he divided his time between freighting, prospecting, and driving stage coaches. During the winter months dances and socials were sponsered. It was at one of these gatherings that he met Emma and later were married.

Simeon bought a farm in Cove, Idaho. In 1901 he received a mission call, and served over two years. After his return he worked in the Bannock Stake Mutual Superintendency, Ward Sunday School Superintendency, Ward teacher, and Home Missionary. In 1905 he moved his family to a farm near Soda Springs, where he leashed his brother's farm. In 1908 he was appointed deputy sheriff, and he moved his family to Pocatello, Idaho. In 1915 he became foreman of the Idaho Ranch, and at the same time took up a homestead of 360 acres. In 1921 he sold the homestead and built a home in Soda Springs.

He went to work for Anaconda Copper Mining Company in 1921 at their phospate mine near Conda, Idaho, and worked in the compressor office. In 1925 he went on a short term mission for six months. Upon his return he served as First Counselor in the Conda Bishopric, and in 1928 was ordained GERTRUDE HARRIS, dau. of Alexander Harris and Harriet Ann Craner, was b. 9 Aug. 1874, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 20 Oct. 1960, American Fork, Utah Co., Utah; bur. 24 Oct. 1960, Grace, Caribou Co., Idaho. She md. 25 Sept. 1895, Albert Medford, at Pocatello, Bannock Co., Idaho.

Gertrude was only one month old when her mother died. Her father was away on a freighting trip to Montana at the time. When she was four years of age she lived with her brother Alexander's family, and stayed until she was twelve years of age. She then stayed with her sister Martha Caroline's family. This family moved to Lewiston, Utah, where she attended school, and later attended college at Logan, Utah.

Gertrude married Albert Medford. They resided at Thatcher, Idaho, for some time, then moved to Turner, Idaho, where they homesteaded a large tract of land. Later the family moved to Grace, Idaho. Here Gertrude operated a hat shop for several years. She was an emaculate housekeeper, a kind and loving wife and mother. She died at the home of her daughter in American Fork, Utah.

ALBERT MEDFORD, son of Charles Medford and Sarah _____, was b. 1 Jan. 1871, Millville, Cache Co., Utah; d. 14 Nov. 1935, Grace, Caribou Co., Idaho; bur. Grace, Idaho. He md. 25 Sept. 1895, Gertrude Harris, at Pocatello, Bannock Co., Idaho.

Albert's mother died when he was a babe in arms. His father remarried and had one child, then she died. This again left Albert and his brother alone with their father, who reared them to manhood. Albert attended school at Thatcher, Idaho, and also at the college in Logan, Utah.

CHAPTER VII

ALEXANDER HARRIS and MARTHA CRANER family

ALEXANDER HARRIS, son of McGee Harris and Mary Givens, was b. 25 Mar. 1834, near Lebanon, Wilson Co., Tenn.; d. 20 Feb. 1889, Mound Valley, (now Cleveland), Franklin Co., Idaho; bur. 24 Feb. 1889, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah. He md. (1) 21 June 1855, Harriet Ann Craner (see Chapter VI); he md. (2) June 1875, Martha Craner.

Life sketch of Alexander Harris is given in Chapter VI.

MARTHA CRANER, dau. of George Benjamin Craner and Elizabeth West, was b. 16 May 1844, Maxstoke, Warwick, England; d. 19 Sept. 1916, Cleveland, Franklin Co., Idaho; bur. 21 Sept. 1916, Cleveland, Idaho. Martha md. (1) 1860, George Tanner; md. (2) June 1875, Alexander Harris.

When Martha was in her youth her parents were converted to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. She immigrated with her parents to America. Martha celebrated her tenth birthday crossing the Kansas plains. Her father became very ill, and died two days later. The rest of the family went to Tooele, Utah, where Martha's brother lived.

When Martha was sixteen years of age she married George Tanner. They had nine children, then her husband died in 1872. Shortly afterward her sister Harriet Ann died. In June 1875 she married Harriet Ann's husband, Alexander Harris. They were the parents of six children. Martha endured all the hardships of pioneer life; she was the mother of fifteen children. Martha and Alexander lived in Mound Valley, now Cleveland, Idaho. Alexander died in 1889, shortly after which Martha filed on a homestead at Turner, Idaho. Martha died in 1916 at Cleveland and was buried there.

Alexander Harris and Martha Craner had the following children:

21 Jan. 1903, Carrie Larsen, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Daniel's father died when he was just a young boy, so he assumed much of the responsibility of caring for his widowed mother. Gentile Valley was in the pioneering stage when his father settled in the area. Daniel was one of the first white children to be born in Gentile Valley. Indians were numerous, and Daniel was nearly kidnaped by an Indian squaw when very young.

Daniel met and courted Carrie Larsen. They were married in the Logan Temple, and reared eight children. He was a very successful farmer and rancher. His home was always open to his friends and relatives. He was kind and thoughtful to all he came in contact, and was a devoted husband and father. He died at his home in Cleveland, Idaho.

CARRIE LARSEN, dau. of James Larsen and Mette Cathern Caspersen, was b. 24 Dec. 1881, Cleveland, Franklin Co., Idaho; d. 16 Feb. 1961, Cleveland, Idaho. She md. 21 Jan. 1903, Daniel Hanmer Harris, in the Logan Temple.

The parents of Carrie were immigrants from Denmark, and settled at Cleveland, Idaho. She received a limited education in her youth. When a young girl shw worked for various people assisting in household duties. She also worked in her father's store for some time. She was a good dancer and looked forward to the social functions.

At the age of twenty one she married Daniel Hanmer Harris. There first home was at Niter, Idaho, then later settled at Perry. This townsite later was called Cleveland. Carrie was active in the church. She was President of the Primary while living at Niter. She was a Counselor in the Primary, and Sunday School teacher, and a Relief Society visiting teacher for twenty five years at Cleveland. She enjoyed good health all her life, until a stroke in 1958. She died in 1961 at Cleveland.

FRANK ALBERT HARRIS, son of Alexander Harris and Martha Craner, was b. 8 July 1877, Tooele, Tooele Co., Utah; d. 22 June 1962, Lava Hot Springs, Bannock Co., Idaho; bur. 25 June 1962, Cleveland, Franklin Co., Idaho. He md. (1) 7 Dec. 1904, Luby Patrina Nelson, Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah. He md. (2) 2 Oct. 1919, Edna Amelia Hansen, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

Soon after his birth his family moved to Mound Valley, Idaho. He rode horses and took care of his father's cattle from early youth. He married Luby Patrina Nelson in Logan, Utah. They homesteaded a ranch at Grace, Idaho., and lived here for seventeen years. His wife died in 1918 during the flu epidemic. They were the parents of seven children.

Frank soon afterward sold his home and bought a ranch in Mound Valley. He married Edna Amelia Hansen in 1919 in Salt Lake City, Utah. They had one child. Edna died on her fortieth birthday, leaving Frank alone again. He had his daughter Cleone live with hime for a few months, and she died. This left Frank alone again, so he sold his ranch and moved to Lava Hot Springs, Idaho, and made his home at the Whitestone Hotel.

LUBY PATRINA NELSON, dau. of Nels Nelson and Bo Dell Hansen, was b. 3 May 1885, Brigham City, Box Elder Co., Utah; d. 18 Mar. 1918, Grace, Caribou Co., Idaho; bur. at Cleveland, Franklin Co., Idaho. She md. 7 Dec. 1904, Frank Albert Harris, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

At the age of two Luby's family moved to Cleveland, Idaho, where she resided until her marriage. She sttended school at Cleveland during the winter months. She was married in the Logan Temple; and was the mother of seven children. She worked in the community and church. Shewas an excellent housewife, but was not privileged to raise her children to maturity. Her family became ill with the flu in 1918, and from overwork she became ill herself. This resulted in her early death.

EDNA AMELIA HANSEN, dau. of Ole Hansen and Emma Larsen, was b. 14 Apr. 1900, Cleveland, Franklin Co., Idaho; d. 14 Apr. 1940, Soda Springs, Caribou Co., Idaho; bur. Cleveland, Franklin Co., Idaho. She md. Frank Albert Harris, 2 Oct. 1919, in the Salt Lake Temple.

Edna was raised on a ranch, and helped her father in the fields with planting and harvesting of the crops. Edna had been working for Frank and his first wife, when Luby died. The next year Frank and Edna were married, and she assumed the responsibility of raising his six small children when only nineteen years of age.

Edna had one child of her own, which caused her to have ill health for several months after its birth. She was an excellent mother to all the children, and soon gained their love and respect. She had a very serious operation a few years later and was expected to die. However, she did regain her health, and lived until her fortieth birthday, when she died of cancer. Edna died 14 Apr. 1940 at Soda Springs, Idaho, and was buried at Cleveland, Idaho.

LOUISA HARRIS, dau. of Alexander Harris and Martha Craner, was b. 28 July 1880, at Mound Valley, now Cleveland, Franklin Co., Idaho. She md. 20 Dec. 1899, Joseph Lars Hansen, at Ten Miles Springs, Caribou Co., Ida.

Louisa was only eight years of age when her father died. She received some schooling during the winter months at Cleveland. She worked for other people to help her mother. When she was seventeen she went to work for the Hansen family. Here she met Joseph, whom she married two years later. Their first home was near Grace, Idaho. In 1905 her husband sold the farm, and moved to a hay ranch near Henry, Idaho. She lived here for ten years. In the fall of 1915 the family moved to Thatcher, Idaho. They bought a 400 acre ranch. When her husband died she turned the ranch over to her sons, and went to live with her daughter. Louisa served as a chorister, counselor, and visiting teacher in the Relief Society of Turner Ward.

JOSEPH LARS HANSEN, son of Lars Hansen and Matilda Christoffeson, was b. 17 July 1873, Soda Springs, Caribou Co., Idaho; d. 7 Jan. 1934, Grace, Caribou Co., Idaho; bur. 10 Jan. 1934, Soda Springs, Idaho. He md. 20 Dec. 1899, Louisa Harris, at Ten Mile Springs, Idaho.

Joseph received his education at Soda Springs, Idaho. As a young man he helped build the Oregon Short Line Railroad through the county; and worked awhile at the brickyard. His parents moved to Ten Mile Springs, west of Soda Springs, and later had a ranch north of Henry, Idaho. Joseph and his brother operated this ranch. In the winter they fed two hundred head of cattle. Water holes had to be chopped through ice for the cattle.

Joseph married Louisa Harris. Their first home was on a 200 acre ranch west of Grace, Idaho. He hauled logs to build their home, and hauled water from the Bear River for domestic use. In 1905 he purchased the Goose Lake Ranch from his parents near Henry, Idaho. In 1915 he moved his family to Thatcher, Idaho, where they purchased another ranch. Joseph was president of the Turner Canal Company for a number of years, and was director of the North Extension Canal Company. He was a prominent rancher, and was known for his good judgment and conservative nature.

CHARLES Eli HARRIS, son of Alexander Harris and Martha Craner, was b. 7 May 1882, Mound Valley, now Cleveland, Franklin Co., Idaho; d. 25 May 1957, Soda Springs, Caribou Co., Idaho; bur. 28 May 1957, Thatcher, Franklin Co., Idaho. He md. 14 Oct. 1902, Ada Perry, at Logan, Cache Co., Utah.

Charles Eli spent his boyhood on his father's ranch, and received a limited education during the winter months. After his marriage he took up a homestead near Grace, Idaho. His family lived in a small two room, log house with a dirt roof. In 1912 Charles received a mission call to the Southern States. He sold his dry farm and left in May. He was released in the fall of the same year to care for his family.

After he returned from his mission he moved to Mound Valley. He bought another farm and had a dairy herd. They had a five room house, orchards, and gardens. The family lived here for seventeen years. Charles was active in church work. He served as Superintendent of the Sunday School in Mound Valley Ward for a number of years, and served as a member of the Bishopric.

In 1930 he sold his home and moved to Preston, Idaho. They bought a large rooming house, and stayed in business for three years. They returned to Thatcher, Idaho, and purchased another home, and engaged in stock raising. The first years on the new ranch were difficult, but within ten years he had acquired a large herd of purebred cattle. He helped all his children to get a home, automobiles, and farm machinery. During his last years he suffered from arthritis, and was unable to do much work on his farm.

ADA PERRY, dau. of Henry Perry and Mary Jane Ridges, was b. 17 Nov. 1884, Franklin, Franklin Co., Idaho; d. 20 Nov. 1959, Thatcher, Franklin Co., Idaho; bur. 23 Nov. 1959, Thatcher, Idaho. She md. 14 Oct. 1902, Charles Eli Harris, in Logan, Cache Co., Utah.

Ada was eight years of age when her family moved to Mound Valley, later called Perry, and now called Cleveland, Idaho. She went to school and church with young Charles Eli, who later became her husband. Ada had dark eyes, and long black hair. She was a very religious person, who saw to it that the family went to church and had family prayers. She served as Counselor in the Relief Society, and later served as President for seven years. She knit sweaters for the soldiers during World War I. She made quilts for the poor, remade clothing, and knit mittens and stockings for children. Ada was always neat, clean, and tidy in her home. Ada suffered with poor health for nearly forty years.

CHAPTER VIII

WILLIAM HARRIS and EMMELINE WHITTLE family

WILLIAM HARRIS, son of McGee Harris and Mary Givens, was b. 8 June 1836, near Lebanon, Wilson County, Tenn; d. 11 July 1903, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 13 July 1903, Richmond, Utah. He md. 20 Aug. 1861, Emmeline Whittle, at Richmond, Utah.

Shortly after the birth of William, his parents moved to Marion, Williamson Co., Illinois, where they acquired a large tract of land. In 1845 the family became converted to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and moved to Winter Quarters, Neb. In the spring of 1848 they made their way across the plains to Utah. William was only twelve years of age, and drove an ox team all the way. The family resided at Fort Herriman, Utah, and Springville, Utah. In 1860 William and his two brothers moved to Richmond, Utah.

William married Emmeline Whittle at Richmond. They built a home in the Richmond Fort. Later they built a new home on a city lot. William was an active member of the organization known as Minute Men, which for years he took his turn as night guard against Indian raids. William helped haul logs from the local canyons, did freighting, railroad construction work, farming, and stock raising. He acquired a small real estate fortune, and helped all his children to get established on ranches.

William supported public schools, public improvements, church buildings, and never failed to donate to a worthy cause. He was always kind and generous to his children, and made great effort and sacrifice to educate them. His home was located on the State Highway, and was an open house for relatives, friends, and cattle buyers. Room and board, and feed for their horses were all gratis. Often in the spring time after a long winter his place was a regular rendevous for people who had to have hay for the family cow, and keep a work team from starving. As long as he had supplies he would share with his friends, and seldom did he collect money for his provisions. He was loved and respected by all who knew him.

EMMELINE WHITTLE, dau. of Thomas Levi Whittle and Mary Fullmer, was b. 8 Mar. 1845, Nauvoo, Hancock Co., Illinois; d. 6 Apr. 1931, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 9 Apr. 1931, Richmond, Utah. She md. 20 Aug. 1861, William Harris, at Richmond, Utah.

Emmeline came to Utah as a pioneer across the Great Plains to Utah in 1848, when she was only three years of age. The Whittle family lived at Fort Herriman and Grantsville, Utah, until the spring of 1860, when they moved to Richmond, Ut. Emmeline met and married William Harris. They were the parents of eight children, seven sons and one daughter. Emmeline was an excellent housewife and mother, and got great pleasure in caring for her family. Her home was open to relatives and strangers. Hundreds of people received kind and generous care at her home. When her husband died she chose to build a two room home as part of her daughter's home. Here she lived as a widow for nearly 28 years. She died at her home and was buried by the side of her husband in the Richmond cemetery.

William Harris

William Harris and Emmeline Whittle had issue:

* 1. William McGee Harris, b. 23 May 1862, Richmond, Utah; md. (1) Araminta Pope; md. (2) Harriet Ann Carson
* 2. Charles Zera Harris, b. 9 Mar. 1864, Richmond, Utah; md. Sarah Alice Anderson

WILLIAM MCGEE HARRIS, son of William Harris and Emmeline Whittle, was b. 23 May 1862, Richmond, Cache Co., Ut.; d. 17 Mar. 1930, Grace, Caribou Co., Ida.; bur. 21 Mar. 1930, Lago, Caribou Co., Ida. He md. (1) 20 May 1882, Araminta Pope, at Logan, Cache Co., Ut.; he md. (2) 4 Feb. 1885, Harriet Ann Carson, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

William McGee spent his boyhood at Richmond, attending the local school and helping his parents. He married Araminta Pope. They had one child. Araminta died of childbirth, and their daughter died soon afterwards.

William helped in the construction of the railroad into Utah. Here he met and courted Harriet Ann Carson, who was a cook for the railroad crew. They were married in the Logan Temple. When William McGee was twenty four he took his family to Lago, Idaho. He cleared land of sage brush and planted it into timothy. For several years he fed the stock of his father. Each year his father gave him cattle for payment for feed. In this way he got established in the sheep and cattle business.

William McGee built a log cabin for their first home, which was later replaced by a two story frame home. This home burned in 1907, and a new two story cinder block home was constructed. He was a successful farmer and rancher. He had a large vegetable garden and orchards, and raised beef cattle, sheep, and poultry. He took great pride in his beautiful, well matched teams of horses.

William was ordained a Bishop on 5 Dec. 1891 of the Trout Creek Ward, and served for twenty four years. He was honest, respected, and loved by all. He was elected a member of the Idaho State Legislature in 1897. At the age of fifty his health began to fail. He deeded his property to his sons, and bought a home in Grace, Idaho. He started in the automobile business, but this proved a failure. He was a stockholder in the Farmers Bank and served as its president for two years. On 18 Nov. 1917 he was ordained Patriarch of the Bannock Stake, and served until his death. He was the Mayor of Grace for several years. He died at the family home at Grace and was buried in the Lago cemetery.

William McGee Harris md. (1) 20 May 1882, Araminta Pope, in Logan, Cache Co., Utah. She was b. 21 July 1862, Grantsville, Tooele Co., Utah; d. 17 Mar. 1883, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; bur. Richmond, Utah. She was the dau. of William Monroe Pope and Catharine McBride. William McGee and Araminta had issue:

HARRIET ANN CARSON, dau. of David Carson and Millie Jane Rawlins, was b. 18 June 1861, Draper, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 25 Mar. 1953, Rexburg, Madison Co., Idaho; bur. 30 Mar. 1953, Lago Cemetery, Caribou Co., Idaho. She md. 4 Feb. 1885, William McGee Harris, in Logan Temple, Utah.

When Harriet Ann was four years of age her parents moved to Richmond, Utah, where she spent her childhood and youth. She worked as a cook for men building the railroad into Utah. It was here that she met William McGee Harris, and married later in the Logan Temple. They were the parents of seven children.

Harriet and her husband lived at Richmond a short time, then moved to Lago, Idaho. In 1891 she became the First Counselor in the Relief Society of Trout Creek Ward, and served for 16 years. Later she became secretary of the Bannock Stake Relief Society, and held this position for many years. She died in the Rexburg, Idaho, hospital, and was buried at Lago, Idaho.

CHARLES ZERA HARRIS, son of William Harris and Emmeline Whittle, was b. 9 Mar. 1864, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 12 May 1948, Logan, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 14 May 1948, Richmond, Utah. He md. 14 Apr. 1886, Sarah Alice Anderson, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Charles was reared on a farm in Richmond, Utah. On Saturday afternoons he spent playing baseball, a sport in which he excelled. In the early 1880's he helped his father in the freighting business. He also helped to build the Northern Pacific Railroad into Montana. From 1883 to 1886 he attended the University of Utah, where he graduated with a normal diploma. After his graduation he taught school at Richmond. Durin the summers he assisted his father on his farm. In 1886 he married Sarah Alice Anderson. In 1890 he gave up school teaching and moved to Ogden, Utah, where he became a bookkeeper for Gibson and Smirthwaite, wholesale merchants. In 1896 he returned to Richmond and became the manager of the People's Merchantile and Creamery Company. He was instrumental in the organization of the Utah Condensed Milk Company in 1904, and was its manager for the first four years.

Charles was Mayor of Richmond for several years, and took an active part in bringing water, electricity, and concrete sidewalks to the city. He was a member of the school board of education. In 1898 he was elected to the Utah Legislature. He was active in securing the Carnegie Library for Richmond, and was one of the original organizers of the Cache Co. Farm Bureau and the Cache Co. Fair. In 1920 Charles Zera sold his interest in the People's Merchantile Company. He bought a farm and established a registered Holstein dairy herd. He developed Parkinson's disease the last few years of his life.

SARAH ALICE ANDERSON, dau. of George Anderson and Mary Ann Davis, was b. 10 Jan. 1870, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 30 Oct. 1945, Richmond, Utah; bur. 1 Nov. 1945, Richmond, Utah. She md. 14 Apr. 1886, Charles Zera Harris, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Sarah's mother died when she was only two years of age. She was taken to Bountiful, Utah, and reared by her grandmother until fourteen years of age. She then went to Richmond and lived with her father's family. She attened the district school, where Charles Zera Harris was her teacher. When Sarah was sixteen years of age, they were married in the Logan Temple. She was the mother of three children.

Sarah was active in both civic and religious affairs. She was President of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers for two terms. She served as Chairman of the Richmond Republican Club, and Chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter. Sarah was an active Ward choir member. For seven years she was a Counselor in the Richmond Ward Primary, and later President of the Richmond Ward Relief Society. She served for five years as a Counselor in the Benson Stake Relief Society.

CASPER WHITTLE HARRIS, son of William Harris and Emmeline Whittle, was b. 31 May 1871, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 20 July 1953, Lava Hot Springs, Bannock Co., Idaho; bur. 23 July 1953, Grace, Caribou Co., Ida. He md. 11 May 1892, Martina Christensen, at Lago, Caribou Co., Idaho.

Casper spent his youth in Richmond, assisting his parents on the farm, and attending the pioneer school during the winter months. As a young man his father sent him to Lago, Idaho, to care for his father's property. He lived with his brother and family. He met Martina Christensen at a dance. After several months of courtship they were married.

Casper always had excellent teams of horses, and took great pride in them. He was very successful as a farmer. He had a large herd of sheep, which he sheared early in the spring one year. He drove them to the summer range. During the night a snow storm struck, and by morning all the sheep had died. He sold his home in Lago and moved to Grace, Idaho, in 1913. He bought a livery stable which he operated for several years. Later he became manager of the Gem Valley Telephone Compnay.

Casper was a farmer at heart, so he sold his home in Grace and bought a farm three miles west of the city. Then the depression came in the early 1930's, and he suffered another great financial loss. He moved back to Grace and rented. He went to work with a telephone construction crew until he was retired. His wife died in 1924, and in 1930 he married Amelia Potter. She had a home in Lava Hot Springs, where they resided and operated the Home Hotel for several years.

MARTINA CHRISTENSEN, dau. of Knud C. Christensen and Mary Ann Bartelson, was b. 21 July 1871, Huntsville, Weber Co., Utah; d. 10 Dec. 1924, Grace, Caribou Co., Idaho; bur. 12 Dec. 1924, Grace, Idaho. She md. 11 May 1892, Casper Whittle Harris, at Lago, Caribou Co., Idaho.

Soon after Martina was born her parents moved to Lago, Idaho. She was a very attractive young lady, full of fun and had a great sense of humor. She and her sister worked in Soda Springs when they were in their teens. Each weekend when they came home her father would arrange for a dance. It was at one of these dances that she met Casper Whittle Harris. After several months of courtship, they were married at Lago. They lived in a log cabin that Casper had built. In 1905 they built a large red brick home at Lago.

In 1913 the family moved to Grace, Idaho. Here for the first time Martina enjoyed the use of electricity. Martina was never idle. When her house work was finished, she was busy with needle work. Her fruit room was always filled with hundreds of quarts of fruit, jam, jelly, and mincement. Martina was an active worker in the Red Cross organization. She was a good practical nurse, and often assisted in confinement cases. She developed sugar diabeties and died in 1924 at Grace, Idaho.

ALEXANDER ELI HARRIS, son of William Harris and Emmeline Whittle, was b. 20 Oct. 1873, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 8 Nov. 1939, Richmond, Utah; bur. 11 Nov. 1939, Richmond, Utah. He md. 2 Jan. 1901, Blanche Bullen, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

Alexander Eli spent a happy childhood in Richmond, where he completed eight years of school and worked on his father's farm. Each summer it was his responsibility to haul wood from the nearby canyons for use during the winter months. He attended the college at Logan, Utah, for two years. In 1896 he received a mission call to the Southern States, where he labored for two years. Shortly after his return he met and courted Blanche Bullen. They were married in the Salt Lake Temple, and reared fourteen children.

Alexander loved farming. His father gave him a farm and helped him build a home. He was ambitious and enjoyed hard work. He worked from sun up until sun down on the farm, and taught his children the value of work. His wife died at an early age of forty six. The responsibility of raising his large family was left to him. He encouraged his children to seek a good education, and helped them all he could. Later in life Alexander Eli became a worker in the Logan Temple, which he greatly enjoyed. His vision became impaired in his last few years.

BLANCHE BULLEN, dau. of John Joseph Bullen and Elizabeth Van Etten, was b. 19 Sept. 1880, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 11 Aug. 1926, Richmond, Utah; bur. 14 Aug. 1926, Richmond, Utah. She md. 2 Jan. 1901, Alexander Eli Harris.

Blanche spent her entire lifetime in Richmond. She graduated from the eighth grade; and at the age of fifteen she enrolled at the college in Logan, Utah. She worked for her board and room, arising at four o'clock to wash, iron, and prepare breakfast. While attending college she was a member of the Sorosis Sorority. She graduated with a normal diploma in 1898, then devoted the next year to a business course. For the next three years she taught school at Richmond and Cove.

Blanche married Alexander Eli Harris in the Salt Lake Temple. She was the mother of fourteen children. Blanche was very intellectual and spiritual, and she was anxious for her children to succeed in life. Her life was centered in her large family and the church. She served on the Benson Stake Relief Society Board. She was president of the Parent Teachers Association. Blanche died at an early age, a victim of peratonitis. She was survived by her husband and twelve children, the youngest only two years of age.

AROET LUCIUS HARRIS, son of William Harris and Emmeline Whittle, was b. 20 Nov. 1876, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 26 Jan. 1955, Richmond, Ut.; bur. 30 Jan. 1955, Richmond, Utah. He md. 21 Dec. 1898, Nancy Olive Kerr, in Logan, Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Aroet spent his entire life in Richmond, except for the summer months in his youth he worked on his father's ranch in Idaho. During the winter months he attended the schools at Richmond. Following graduation from the eighth grade he attended the college at Logan for two years. He married Nancy Olive Kerr in the Logan Temple, and were the parents of six children.

Shortly after his marriage Aroet was called on a mission to the Northern States. After his return he worked as a clerk in the People's Store. In 1903 after his father's death he moved in the family home and began farming. He bought some of the first Holstein cows that came into Richmond, and also invested in beef cattle. Each fall he would take one or two car loads of cattle to Omaha, Neb., to sell.

Aroet was secretary of the High Creek Livestock Association. He was one of the original committee members that organized the Black and White Days Show, which gained recognition as one of the largest and best shows of Holstein cattle in the nation. He served as secretary or as a committee member until his death. He was secretary of the Cache Valley Beet Growers Association for about twenty five years. He served as the Richmond Postmaster during the Coolidge and Hoover administrations. He sold his farm and became City Clerk and secretary of the Richmond Irrigation Co. until his health forced him to retire.

Aroet worked on the Benson Stake Mutual Board. He was Superintendent of the Young Men's Mutual in Richmond Ward. For many years he was secretary of the High Priest's quorum. Aroet died in Richmond, and was buried in the local cemetery.

NANCY OLIVE KERR, dau. of Robert Marion Kerr and Nancy Jane Rawlins, was b. 14 Mar. 1877, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 29 Oct. 1959, Logan, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 2 Nov. 1959, Richmond, Utah. She md. 21 Dec. 1898, Aroet Lucius Harris, in the Logan Temple, Utah.

Nancy was reared in Richmond, where she attended the Richmond school graduating from the eighth grade. Later she attended the college at Logan, and received a normal diploma for teachers. Upon graduation she taught school at Fairview, Idaho.

One month after her marriage to Aroet Lucius Harris, her husband left on a mission. Nancy went to Ora, Idaho, and stayed with her sister. She taught school here until her husband returned from his mission. Nancy was active in church and community work. She served on the Benson Stake Primary and Relief Society Boards. She was a class leader for the social science lessons in the Ward Relief Society. She served as President of the Young Womens' Mutual Organization.

Nancy was active in the Parents Teachers Association, and was a member of the local literary club. Nancy always maintained in her own children, and the youth of the community. She did all she could for their betterment. She died in the Logan Hospital, and was buried in Richmond.

EMMA HARRIS, dau. of William Harris and Emmeline Whittle, was b. 20 Mar. 1878, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 10 Oct. 1950; Richmond, Utah; bur. 14 Mar. 1950, Richmond, Utah. She md. 19 Dec. 1900, Albert Clarence Fisher, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Emma spent her lifetime in Richmond. She attended school, graduating from the eighth grade. Later she attended the Agricultural College at Logan, Utah, for two years. She studied dress making, which proved to be very useful during her life. While attending college she worked at the People's Store after school each day.

In 1900 she married Albert Clarence Fisher in the Logan Temple, after which they were entertained at a lovely wedding reception. She and her husband went to Salt Lake City to live the first two years of their married life, then returned to Richmond. Her husband was called on a mission in 1910 for two years. Emma supervised the family and the farm while he was away.

Emma served as Secretary of the Daughters of Utah Pioneers in Richmond; and later served as Second Counselor. She worked on the Stake Mutual Board, and was a visiting teacher in the Relief Society for fourteen years. She was actively engaged in temple work. Emma's mother lived with her for twenty seven years. Her husband died when only fifty four years of age, and she lost her only boy when he was seventeen. Through all her troubles she remained kind and lovable, unselfish, generous, humble, and charitable. She lived to be seventy two, and died at her home in Richmond.

ALBERT CLARENCE FISHER, son of William Fredric Fisher and Harriet Hogan, was b. 8 Feb. 1873, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 20 Aug. 1927, Richmond, Utah; bur. Richmond, Utah. He md. 19 Dec. 1900, Emma Harris, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Albert spent his early life on the farm. He went to the district school at Richmond, where he became an excellent reader and penman. He held several secretarial jobs, because of his fine penmanship. He also attended the Agricultural College at Logan, Utah, for a short time.

In 1910 Albert was called on a mission to the Northern States. After his return, he was called upon to carry many responsible positions in the church. He spent considerable time doing temple work in the Logan Temple. He was one of the leading dairymen in Cache Valley. He owned one of the largest and best dairy herds. He was one of the promoters of Richmonds first Black and White shows. The family has a trunk full of blue ribbons won at the shows, the Cache County Fairs, and the Utah State Fairs on his pure bred Holsteins.

Albert's health was not too good. In 1926 the family moved to California for one year, then returned to the ranch. On 20 Aug. 1927 Albert died at Richmond. Two weeks before his death he was injured. The horse he was riding lunged backwards throwing Albert against the saddle horn. He received an internal injury, and with his weak heart condition, he soon died. He was buried in the family plot at Richmond, Utah.

CHAPTER IX

MARY ANN HARRIS and JOHN CASPER WHITTLE family

MARY ANN HARRIS, dau. of McGee Harris and Mary Givens, was b. 1 Apr. 1839, Springfield, Sangamon Co., Illinois; d. 5 June 1911, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 8 June 1911, Richmond, Utah. She md. 3 July 1856, John Casper Whittle, at Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

The Harris family lived at Marion, Williamson Co., Illinois, at the time her parents were converted to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Her father was a man of means and had considerable property. When Mary Ann was only seven years of age her family left Illinois. They spent the summer and winter of 1847 at Winter Quarters, Neb. They left from here to cross the plains on 29 May 1848 in the Heber C. Kimball Company. Mary Ann was only nine years of age, and walked most of the hundreds of miles to Utah.

Mary Ann married John Casper Whittle when she was seventeen years of age. Their first home was at Fort Herriman, Utah, where their first child was born. They then moved to Grantsville, Utah, a short time. In 1860 the family moved to Richmond, Utah, where they spent the remainder of their lives. Mary was the mother of nine children, all of whom grew to maturity and were married. Mary Ann was an excellent homemaker. She was cheerful, affectionate, kind, and created much happiness for her husband and children. In later years she became an invalid and was confined to a wheelchair.

JOHN CASPER WHITTLE, son of Thomas Levi Whittle and Mary Fulmer, was b. 28 May 1835, Mercy, Upper Canada, Canada; d. 11 Apr. 1896, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 14 Apr. 1896, Richmond, Utah. He md. 3 July 1856, Mary Ann Harris, at Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

John's parents joined the church in the early 1830's, and left Canada in 1839. They settled first at Quincy and later at Nauvoo, Illinois. After the severe persecutions of the Saints in Illinois, they started their trek to the West. They made the long tedious journey by ox teams, arriving at Great Salt Lake Valley in 1848 with the Zera Pulsifer Company. His father obtained a farm, upon which John worked until he was called on a mission to the Hawaiian Islands.

He married Mary Ann Harris in Salt Lake City, Utah. They moved to Richmond in 1860. John Casper was appointed as a home guard in the Richmond Fort, since the Indians were hostile. They lived within the Fort for a year years, then were established on a farm. He was allocated twenty acres of land, and later he bought more land until he had a good sized farm.

John Casper was active in community and church activities. He was

Richmond City Councilman for several years, Mayor of Richmond, and President of the Coop Store for a long time, and was holding this position when he died. He was President of the Seventies Quorum at the time of his death. John Casper was a kind husband, and a loving father. He was respected and loved by all who knew him. He died at Richmond and was buried there.

Mary Ann Harris and John Casper Whittle had the following children:

* 1. Mary Josephine Whittle, b. 19 July 1857, Fort Herriman, Utah; md. Herschel Bullen
* 2. Julia Ann Whittle, b. 15 Jan. 1859, Grantsville, Utah; md. Lewis Sumner Pond
* 3. John Casper Whittle, Jr., b. 11 Aug. 1861, Richmond, Utah; md. Zina Adaline Pond
* 4. Emily Olive Whittle, b. 17 July 1864, Richmond, Utah; md. William Paxton Robinson
* 5. Clara Whittle, b. 18 Aug. 1866, Richmond, Utah; md. Walter Riches Barber
* 6. Martha Luacine Whittle, b. 18 Sept. 1868, Richmond, Utah; md. Olonzo David Merrill
* 7. Fredrick Harris Whittle, b. 14 July 1874, Richmond, Utah; md. Dorothy Minnie Thomas
* 8. Maude Whittle, b. 22 Mar. 1876, Richmond, Utah; md. (1) George Alvin Brower; md. (2) John Henry Stoddard
* 9. Aroet Lucius Whittle, b. 2 Oct. 1880, Richmond, Utah; md. Nettie Jane Feltman.

MARY JOSEPHINE WHITTLE, dau. of John Casper Whittle and Mary Ann Harris, was b. 19 July 1857, Fort Herriman, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 7 May 1916, Logan, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 11 May 1916, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah. She md. 20 Dec. 1876, Herschel Bullen, in the Logan Temple, Utah.

Mary Josephine was a healthy youngster. She had dark brown hair and blue eyes. Her mother became an invalid while still quite young. Mary and her sisters learned the meaning of work, and handled it with little direction from their mother. She had an excellent sense of humor, and was ready to make the best of any situation.

Mary married Herschel Bullen in 1876. His former wife had died and left two small children. The young bride knew her job. She not only took care of the two children and the home, but also became a devoted mother to seven children of her own. Her children regarded her as a perfect mother. She never found fault and was most helpful to her friends and family. She was a fine seamstress and cook. Work came easy to her. She lived a rich and full life, and left this world better by her actions.

HERSCHEL BULLEN, son of Newell Bullen and Clarissa J. Atkinson, was b. 10 June 1840, Mercer, Somerset Co., Maine; d. 27 June 1910, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 1 July 1910, Richmond, Utah. He md. (1) Lydia Malinda Knapp; md. (2) Emma Boston Gibbs; md. (3) 20 Dec. 1876, Mary Josephine Whittle, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

The parents of Herschel were converted to the church in Maine. They boarded the ship Brooklyn with Sam Brannan Company, when Herschel was only six years of age. They were bound for San Francisco, via the trip around the sourthern tip of South America. The trip took six months from New York to San Francisco. The family remained in California a short time, then joined the saints at Salt Lake City. Herschel's father died when Herschel was only seventeen, and the burden of responsibility fell upon him to care for the family. At the age of 21 he moved to Richmond, Utah. The next year in 1862 he moved his mother and brothers there.

Herschel soon assumed his place in religious, social, and political life of the community. He was instrumental in the construction of a new meeting house for the Richmond Ward. He was a member of the community's first dramatic association, and performed in several of its productions. He also promoted recreation, especially dancing. He was one of the most popular callers in the area.

Herschel married (1) Malinda Knapp on the 28 Mar. 1868, but his marriage ended in divorce. He married (2) Emma Boston Gibbs on 8 Feb. 1870, at Salt Lake City, but she died on 1 Oct. 1873, leaving two small children. He md. (3) 20 Dec. 1876, Mary Josephine Whittle, in the Logan Temple, Cache County, Utah. She was nineteen years of age and he was fourteen years older. But Mary was mature and devoted, and became a perfect helpmate for him.

Herschel was essentially a farmer and breeder of fine horses and cattle, yet his career was by no means confined to these pursuits. Prior to his first marriage he worked in the mines at Bingham, Utah, during the winters. He worked on the final construction of the Union Pacific Railroad in western Wyoming and eastern Utah. He formed a partnership with Samuel A. Hendricks, and their company was responsible for the construction of a part of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad in eastern Utah. They also worked on sections of the Oregon Short Line in Utah and Oregon. With his earnings he eventually purchased 600 acres of farming and pasture land west of Richmond. His big and hospitalbe home became a landmark in Richmond. Herschel was appointed to the State Land Board in the late 1890's by Gov. Heber M. Wells. He served as a school trustee in Richmond for many years, and was responsible for many fine improvements in education in Richmond.

JULIA ANN WHITTLE, dau. of John Casper Whittle and Mary Ann Harris, was b. 15 Jan. 1859, Grantsville, Tooele Co., Utah; d. 23 Apr. 1940, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; bur. 26 Apr. 1940, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah. She md. 15 Jan. 1879, Lewis Sumner Pond, at Richmond, Utah.

When Julia was three years of age her family moved to Richmond, Utah. Their first home was inside a fort used for protection from Indians. Later her father purchased five acres of land on which they built a home. Julia took advantage of the limited education offered at Richmond. When she was twenty years of age she married Lewis Sumner Pond, on her twentieth birthday. In the spring of 1890 they moved to Thatcher, Idaho, where they lived in a small log cabin. When Julia was expecting her fifth child her husband was called on a mission to the Eastern States. When he returned he built a lovely two story frame home for his family.

Julia was active in church work. She spent twenty six years in the Relief Society. From 1905 to 1916 she was Stake Relief Society President in Bannock Stake. The family moved to Brigham City, Utah, where they lived until 1929, when they moved to Salt Lake City, Utah. Julia developed arthritis in 1906. In 1919 her knee joints became set, and she was confined to a wheel chair the remainder of her life. She had a wonderful disposition, never complaining, and found beauty and interest in many things. She loved to read, sew, and listen to the radio. She died in Salt Lake City, and was buried in Richmond.

LEWIS SUMNER POND, son of Stillman Pond and Abigail Thorne, was b. 25 Dec. 1854, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 16 Nov. 1935, Salt Lake City, Utah; bur. 18 Nov. 1935, Richmond, Utah. He md. 15 Jan. 1879, Julia Ann Whittle, at Richmond, Cache Co., Utah.

His father moved his family to Garfield, Utah, in 1855, then to Spanish Fork in 1857, and finally to Richmond, Utah, in 1860. Lewis helped his father on the farm in his youth. When he was fourteen he went to Salt Lake City to work. When he was sixteen he acquired a wagon and mules and hauled freight from Corrine, Utah, to Helena, Montana. He and his brother contracted grading work for the Rio Grande Railroad near Castle Gate, Utah; and for the Union Pacific Railroad near Bancroft, Idaho. In 1879 he married Julia Ann Whittle. Soon after their marriage they moved to Thatcher, Idaho. In 1885 he served as a Counselor in the ward. In 1889 he was called on a mission for over two years. Upon his return he was ordained the Bishop of Thatcher Ward.

In June 1897 Lewis was called with others to open a mission in the North Western States. In July he took charge of the Idaho Conference, and in Dec. 1897 he went to Spokane to preside over the mission. This he did until Mar. 1898, when he was released to return home. Upon his return he was set apart as President of the Bannock Stake.

Later in life he sold his ranch and tried to find some cure for his wife's arthritis. They moved to Ashton, Idaho for awhile, then to Long Beach, Calif., and later to Phoenix, Ariz. Then they returned to Brigham City, Utah, to live. Here he served as a High Councilman. He also was County Commissioner for two terms, and during World War I served Box Elder County as Liberty Bond Chairman. In 1929 the family moved to Salt Lake City, where he worked in the Salt Lake Temple.

JOHN CASPER WHITTLE, JR., son of John Casper Whittle and Mary Ann Harris, was b. 11 Aug. 1861, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 27 Apr. 1934, St. Anthony, Fremont Co., Idaho; bur. 29 Apr. 1934, St. Anthony, Idaho. He md. 6 June 1885, Zina Adaline Pond, at Richmond, Utah.

During his youth he attended school at Richmond during the winter months. As a young man he worked for the Pond brothers on their ranches and helping to build railroads. In 1885 he married Zina Adaline Pond. They lived in Richmond for a few years, then moved to Thatcher, Idaho. Later John Casper moved his family to Marysville, Idaho, where they pioneered the area. John homesteaded land, and built a two room log house for his family. The wild game were abundant, which supplemented their food supply. John Casper believed in hard work, and taught his child- this principle. He contributed a section of land on his ranch, where the neighboring ranchers built a large one room recreation hall. This was used for dances and for a few years as a school house. In 1915 he moved his family to a ranch near St. Anthony, and later purchased a home in the city. He had many friends and neighbors who enjoyed visiting the Whittle home. He was cheerful, good natured, and patient. He was also somewhat reserved, and timid about doing anything in public. He died of cancer in 1934 at St. Anthony and was buried there.

ZINA ADALINE POND, dau. of Stillman Pond and Abigail Thorne, was b. 7 June 1865, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 20 June 1939, St. Anthony, Fremont Co.. Idaho; bur. 23 June 1939, St. Anthony, Idaho. She md. 6 June 1885, John Casper Whittle, Jr., at Richmond, Utah.

Zina was reared in Richmond, Utah, where she attended the district school. She was very studious and made the best of her opportunities for learning. She married John Casper Whittle, Jr. They lived at Richmond for a few years, where their first three children were born. They moved to Thatcher, Idaho, for one year, then in 1893 they moved to Marysville, Idaho. Here they had a homestead. Her husband built a large two room log house. In 1910 they sold this ranch, and bought a larger one near the townsite. Zina served as Primary President at Marysville Ward for about ten years.

In 1915 the family moved to St. Anthony, Idaho. A branch of the church was organized soon after their arrival. Zina was called to serve as the Relief Society President. Their farm was not too productive so the family moved into the city, and purchased a home. Zina again served in the Relief Socity, and also worked on the Stake Genealogical Committee. She enjoyed doing temple work. Zina had to endure many hardships and heartaches. She lost half of her family at a very early age. She died at St. Anthony and was buried in the local cemetery.

EMILY OLIVE WHITTLE, dau. of John Casper Whittle and Mary Ann Harris, was b. 17 July 1864, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 3 Jan. 1945, Idaho Falls, Bonneville Co., Idaho; bur. 6 Jan. 1945, Freedom, Lincoln Co., Wyoming. She md. 11 Nov. 1884, William Paxton Robinson, at Richmond, Ut.

Emily Olive was reared in Richmond, Utah. She attended school during the winter months, and assisted her parents at home. After her marriage she and her husband moved to Gentile Valley, Idaho, where the lived for one year and a half, then returned to Richmond. In 1888 the family moved to Star Valley, Wyoming. They purchased a ranch and lived in the Freedom Ward. She and her husband were active in church activities.

Emily Olive was the mother of six children, who all married. She lived to be eighty years of age, having lived a vigorous and full life. She died at Idaho Falls, Idaho, and was buried at Freedom, Wyoming.

WILLIAM PAXTON ROBINSON, son of John Reed Robinson and Ann Gregson, was b. 7 Aug. 1863, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 1 Aug. 1931, Freedom, Lincoln Co., Wyoming; bur. 3 Aug. 1931, Freedom, Wyoming. He md. 11 Nov. 1884, Emily Olive Whittle, at Richmond, Utah.

The early life of William was spent in Richmond. His schooling was limited, but he had the privilege of attending school where his father was the teacher. His father died when he was fourteen years of age, so he assisted other family members to support his mother. He drove a team on a freight line from Corrine, Utah to Helena, Montana. Later he worked for a surveying crew on the Oregon Short Line Railroad, surverying the line to Fort Benton, Montana.

William returned to Utah and married Emily Olive Whittle. They moved to Gentile Valley for a short time, then returned to Utah. He worked for a contractor to build a railroad into Idaho Falls. When this work was completed he moved his family to Freedom, Wyoming, where they spent the rest of their lives. He purchased a ranch and was engaged in farming and dairying. He died at Freedom and was buried there.

CLARA WHITTLE, dau. of John Casper Whittle and Mary Ann Harris, was b. 18 Aug. 1866, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 15 Jan. 1923, Richmond, Utah; bur. 18 Jam. 1923, Richmond, Utah. She md. 26 Oct. 1893, Walter Riches Barber, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Clara spent her childhood and youth in Richmond. She was of great assistance to her mother, and helped her two older sisters with their families. When in her late teens she helped her mother cook for a railroad crew near Grace, Idaho. While here she was stricken with typhoid fever, and was very ill for days. Through faith, prayer, and medical care, she finally recovered.

After her marriage she and her husband moved to a ranch at Freedom, Lincoln Co., Wyoming. One of Clara's sisters lived in the area, and they were very close to each other. Clara became ill in 1914, and the family moved to Logan, Utah, for medical help. She fortunately recovered and the next spring the family returned to Freedom. Her husband purchased another ranch near Etna, and Clara spent the last eight years of her life on this ranch.

Clara was an excellent cook and housekeeper. She worked hard, cooking for hired help, friends, and relatives. She enjoyed the evenings with her family, which were spent making candy, popping corn, mending, and sewing. She was the mother of three children. She died at Richmond and was buried there.

WALTER RICHES BARBER, son of Alonzo George Barber and Louisa Elizabeth Raymond, was b. 13 Jan. 1859, Lehi, Utah Co., Utah; d. 9 Jan. 1944, Afton, Lincoln Co., Wyoming; bur. 13 Jan. 1944, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah. He md. 26 Oct. 1893, Clara Whittle, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Walter's parents were pioneers to Utah and settled at Smithfield, Cache Co., Utah. He assisted his parents on the farm in his youth, and obtained a limited education at Smithfield. Walter was somewhat restless and adventurous as a young man. He loved the open spaces, and enjoyed to hunt and fish. He went to Star Valley, Wyoming to engaged in trapping. In 1877 he was called on a mission to Australia and New Zealand.

After returning from his mission Walter returned to Star Valley, and acquired a section of land near Freedom, Wyoming. In 1893 he married Clara Whittle, and took his bride to his ranch. He owned very fine horses and cattle. Walter contributed greatly to the growth, development, and welfare of Star Valley. His wife died in 1923. He disposed of his property to his daughter and husband, but continued to live in their home the rest of his life. He died at Afton, Wyo., and was buried at Richmond, Ut.

FREDRICK HARRIS WHITTLE, son of John Casper Whittle and Mary Ann Harris, was b. 14 July 1874, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 14 May 1951, Logan, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 17 May 1951, Richmond, Utah. He md. 11 June 1902, Dorothy Minnie Thomas, in Logan Temple, Utah.

He spent his youth in Richmond, and completed the sixth grade of school. In 1899 he was called to serve on a mission in the Southern States for two years. In 1902 he married Dorothy Minnie Thomas. After their marriage they moved into the old Whittle home, and managed the Whittle farm. In the spring of 1919 Fred leased his farm and moved to Bancroft, Idaho. He stayed only three months, then went to Weiser, Idaho. He bought a large cattle ranch, but due to a drought this proved to be a poor financial venture. He returned to Richmond in two years.

Fred was one of the founders of the annual Black and White Days at Richmond, founded in 1911. He exhibited his prize animals in this show, and he especially delighted in entering his horse pulling teams. He was a charter member of the Cache Dairy Herd Improvement Association. He served for eight years on the Richmond City Council. For a long time he was head of the Republican Committe in Cache County, and was a delegate to their conventions. He was the assessor of Richmond City for many years, after which he was a member of the Richmond Irrigation Board.

Fred was active in the church. He work in the Mutual Organization, was chairman of the Ward Reunion and Old Folks Committees. He served on the Genealogical Committee and worked in the Logan Temple. He died in Logan, Utah, and was buried at Richmond, Utah. He was esteemed and respected by all who knew him.

DOROTHY MINNIE THOMAS, dau. of Willian Nash Thomas and Elizabeth Lallis, was b. 9 June 1878, Paradise, Cache Co., Utah; d. 14 Jan. 1934, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 17 Jan. 1934, Richmond, Utah. She md. 11 June 1902, Fredrick Harris Whittle, in the Logan Temple, Utah.

Dorothy spent her early life in Paradise, where she received her education. Later she attended the college at Logan, Utah. She married Fredrick Harris Whittle in 1902, and had five children.

Dorothy was a true homemaker, and received great satisfaction doing the family cooking and housework. She served as an officer in the home and community sections of the Farm Bureau. She was a counselor in the local camp of the Daughters of the Utah Pioneers. She served as Counselor on the Stake Primary Board in Weiser, Idaho, and in Richmond, Utah. She was a visiting teacher in the Relief Socity, a class instructor, and secretary of the Relief Society. She died at Richmond and was buried there.

CHAPTER X

ELI HARRIS and
ELIZABETH HARRIETT MAHALA GAMMELL family

ELI HARRIS, son of McGee Harris and Mary Givens, was b. 13 Feb. 1842, Marion, Williamson Co., Illinois; d. 17 Sept. 1902, Marysville, Fremont Co., Idaho; bur. Marysville, Idaho. He md. 20 Dec. 1867, Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell, in the Endowment House, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

Eli's family were converts to the church and crossed the plains to Utah in the Heber C. Kimball Company in 1848. As a child he was given the nickname of "Cap" by his father, and this name stayed with him for life. As a young man Eli went of Richmond, Utah. Here he met and fell in love with Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell. They were married in Salt Lake City, Utah. For the first seventeen years of their married life they lived in Richmond, Utah. Eli freighted from Corinne, Utah to Montana. He was away from home much of the time. In 1884 he moved his family to Lewiston, Utah, where he purchased a farm. In the spring of 1891 he cast his lot with several other families and moved to Marysville, Idaho, where he acquired a homestead.

Eli was a leader in the pioneering of the Marysville area. He helped with logging, building of cabins, bridges, and canals into this virgin country. He served on the school board for a number of years. He was ever willing and helpful to others in getting established in this new community.

Eli was a very congenial and jovial man. He loved people and most of all his own family. He liked a good joke, and played many on his children and others. Eli was a father of thirteen children, four of whom died in their youth or infancy. The rigors of pioneer life took their toll, among which was Eli who died before he turned sixty years of age.

ELIZABETH HARRIETT MAHALA GAMMELL, dau. of James Gammell and Elizabeth Harriett Ann Hendricks, was b. 23 July 1851, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 9 July 1919, Marysville, Fremont Fo., Idaho; bur. 13 July 1919, Marysville, Idaho. She md. 20 Dec. 1867, Eli Harris, in the Endowment House, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Elizabeth's mother died when she was only three weeks old. Her grandmother took her and reared her to womanhood. The family moved to Richmond, Utah, early in her life, and where she received a limited education. When she was sixteen years of age she married Eli Harris. She made her own wedding dress. First shw washed the wool, spun it into thread and cloth, gathered herbs for dye, and finally did the sewing.

Elizabeth and Eli lived in Richmond until 1884. She was left with the main responsibility of rearing the family, since her husband was on freighting trips for weeks at a time. They moved to Lewiston, Utah, then in 1891 to Marysville, Idaho. She became the first Primary President of Marysville, and held this position for many years. She would drive her own tean of horses and wagon, travelling two and one half miles to Primary. She took her own children, grandchildren, and the neighbors with her. Elizabeth was also the drama director for many years, and a worker in the Relief Society. She spent the latter part of her life working in the Logan Temple. While in Logan she had a stroke, and was a semi-invalid for three years before her death.

Eli Harris and Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell had issue:

* 1. Drusilla Elizabeth Harris, b. 25 Sept. 1868, Richmond, Utah; md. Ernest Fredrick Hale

*10. William Vernal Harris (twin), b. 14 Oct. 1889, Lewiston, Utah; md. Edna Agunda Hansen
11. William Vernon Harris (twin), b. 14 Oct. 1889, Lewiston, Utah; d. 14 Oct. 1889; unmd.
*12. LaVerna Harris, b. 29 Mar. 1892, Marysville, Idaho; md. Ward Willard Reynolds
*13. Effie Harris, b. 20 May 1894, Marysville, Idaho; md. Percy Duncan McArthur.

DRUSILLA ELIZABETH HARRIS, dau. of Eli Harris and Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell, was b. 25 Sept. 1868, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 28 Mar. 1906, Groveland, Bingham Co., Idaho; bur. 30 Mar. 1906, Groveland, Idaho. She md. 23 Feb. 1887, Ernest Fredrick Hale, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Drusilla was the oldest child in the family, and was a great assistance to her mother in caring for the children and helping with the house work. She was of dark complexion. She had black hair and dark brown eyes. When she was eighteen years of age she visited her cousin, and spent the winter with her. It was during this visit that she met Ernest Fredrick Hale. It seemed to be love at first sight. He courted her, and they were married in the Logan Temple.

She was a very easy going person, and even tempered. Nothing seemed to worry her too much. She loved her husband and children. She aided her husband in his many duties, especially when he was Bishop. She made many visits with him to the sick. She was President of the Young Women's Mutual, and was Relief Society President for many years. In 1905 the family moved to Blackfoot, Idaho. Drusilla had been ill for several years, and on 28 Mar. 1906 she passed away in childbirth. Her baby boy died with her, and was buried in her arms. She was the mother of ten children, and died at the early age of thirty seven.

ERNEST FREDRICK HALE, son of Alma Helaman Hale and Sarah Anna Clark, was b. 4 Sept. 1863, Grantsville, Tooele Co., Utah; d. 29 Sept. 1922, Groveland, Bingham Co., Idaho; bur. 3 Oct. 1922, Groveland, Idaho. He md. (1) 23 Feb. 1887, Drusilla Elizabeth Harris, in Logan, Temple, Cache Co., Utah; md. (2) Mary A. Peterson, 19 June 1907..

Ernest was reared at Grantsville, Utah. As a boy he attended grammer school, and herded sheep for his father. When in his teems he helped build roads to the Mercur Mines, and after that spent one summer breaking colts. When he was nineteen he hauled lime rock from a quarry to the smelter at Stockton, Utah. He drove four head of horses, two black and two white ones. In the spring of 1884 he moved to Marion, Summit Co., Utah, and settled on a ranch his father had purchased. He stayed her three years.

In Dec 1886 he visited his brother Albert at Oxford, Idaho. He was met at the train by Albert, his wife, and her cousin, Drusilla Harris. On the way home they came to a pole fence. Drusilla put her hands on the top rail and leaped over. Ernest had said in fun many times that he wanted a girl who could jump a four pole fence. They were married in 1887 in the Logan Temple, and made their home at Cleveland, Idaho.

Ernest was the chief promoter of the Gentile Valley Creamery and served as its first manager. He was overseer of the building when under construction, and of the installation of the machinery. He founded the Cleveland Coop Store and became its first president. He assisted in the management of bridge construction over the Bear River near Cleveland. He was a member of the building committee when the Central School was erected, and also donated extensively toward the erection of the Preston Academy.

He was very active in the church. He was a Sunday School teacher, and later the Sunday School Superintendent. He was ordained Bishop over the Thatcher Ward in Gentile Valley. During this time a meeting house, barn, and tithing office were constructed. A division of the ward was made, and he became the Bishop of the Cleveland Ward and served for seventeen years.

In 1905 he moved his family to Groveland, near Blackfoot, Bingham Co., Idaho. The next year his wife died. On 19 June 1907 he married Mary A. Peterson, and to this union seven children were born. Shortly after moving to the Blackfoot Stake he was called into the High Council, which office he held until his death. He was Stake Superintendent of Religion Classes for twelve years. He died in 1922 at Groveland and was burried in the local cemetery.

Ernest was the father of seventeen children, ten children by his first marriage and seven by his second marriage.

ELI MCGEE HARRIS, son of Eli Harris and Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell, was b. 25 Sept. 1870, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 21 May 1929, Clementsville, Teton Co., Idaho; bur. 24 May 1929, Marysville, Fremont Co., Idaho. He md. 14 Nov. 1890, Mary Isabelle Karren, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Eli lived in Richmond with his parents until a young man. He attended elementary school, and later went to the college at Logan, Utah, for one year. His family then moved to Lewiston, Utah, where they engaged in farming. At Lewiston Eli met and courted Mary Isabelle Karren, and on the 14 Nov. 1890 they were married in the Logan Temple. The following spring they went to Idaho, and filed on a homestead at Marysville. Eli McGee constructed a two room log house. The land was covered with sage brush that had to be removed. After clearing his land the planted oats and wheat.

A saw mill was built at Warm River, about eight miles north of Marysville, where Eli worked for lumber during the winter. He hauled it to Idaho Falls to sell. As the years went by he tilled more land. Harvesters were needed to cut and thresh the grain. Eli and three other men bought a thresher, and did custom work for many farmers.

Eli was a leader, he did much for the advancement of the community. He was elected to the Idaho State Legislature for two terms from 1907 to 1911. He was active in church work He served as Counselor in the Sunday School Superintendency. He took part in dramas, and managed the dances in the area for many years. He served as First and Second Counselors in the Bishopric, and was ordained a Bishop of Marysville Ward on 10 Dec. 1907. He was released in 1916, and served on the High Council until his death in 1929.

MARY ISABELLE KARREN, dau. of Hyrum Karren and Martha M. Langley, was b. 29 Sept. 1868, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 22 Sept. 1951, Ashton, Fremont Co., Idaho; bur. 25 Sept. 1951, Ashton, Idaho. She md. 14 Nov. 1890, Eli McGee Harris, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

When Mary was eight years of age, her family moved to Lewiston, Utah. Mary attended school at Richmond and Lewiston, and went one term at college in Logan, Utah. She was a pretty girl and had many admirers. She was courted by Eli McGee Harris, whom she chose to marry. They lived in Lewiston a short time, then moved to Marysville, Idaho. They had eight children.

Mary Isabelle was a good helpmate for her husband. She would care for the children, when her husband went to various places of employment. Mary always had a pleasant smile, and was friendly with everyone. She had a good singing voice, and sang in the Ward Choir. She was Relief Society President for a number of years, and was a visiting teacher most of her married life.

After her husband's death she carried the responsibilities of the farm. She would go to the dry farm, staying with her boys, and helping in any way she could. She maintained her home until her death. She died at Ashton, Idaho, and was buried there.

JAMES GAMMELL HARRIS, son of Eli Harris and Elizabeth Harriet Mahala Gammell, was b. 17 Nov. 1872, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 2 Feb. 1919, Smithfield, Cache Co., Utah; bur. Darlington, Butte Co., Idaho. He md. 8 Feb. 1893, Sarah Francetta Coleman, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

James spent his childhood in Richmond and Lewiston, Utah, where he attended school. Later his father's family and others moved to Marysville, Idaho. On this trip he met Sarah Francetta Coleman. He courted her and they were married in 1893 in the Logan Temple. They settled on a homestead at Marysville. He worked hard to clear land and to build a home for his family. He assisted his wife in many household duties. He loved to sing and would gather the family together for community singing. James took an active part in church activities. He enjoyed drama, and assisted either by directing or acting. He also participated in most of the dances of the area. He was the Superintendent of the Young Men's Mutual for a number of years.

James never accumulated much worldly wealth, but he gave his children a happy home and a good religious background. He opened his home for Sunday School and Sacrament meetings. He was the First Counselor in the Branch Presidency at Darlington, Idaho. When the members of the branch decided to build a chapel he took an active part. He put very much of his time into the actual building of it, sometimes being the only one at work.

His health was not very good for several years before his death. He went to Logan, Utah, for treatment. It was discovered that he had cancer of the stomach. He only lived about one more week, and died on 2 Feb. 1919 at Smithfield, Utah. He was buried at Darlington, Idaho. It was his dream of seeing the new chapel at Darlington. It was not finished at the time of his death, but it was near enough completed that his funeral was the first meeting held in the chapel.

SARAH FRANCETTA COLEMAN, dau. of William Coleman and Amy Gibson, was b. 20 June 1875, Smithfield, Cache Co., Utah; d. 9 May 1931, Logan, Cache Co., Utah; bur. 12 May 1931, Smithfield, Utah. She md. 8 Feb. 1893, James Gammell Harris, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Sarah spent her childhood on her father's farm. She received her education at Smithfield, completing the sixth grade. She helped her mother with the household duties, and even learned to milk the cows. She could crochet and sew very well.

In 1891 her suster and husband moved to Marysville, Idaho, and Sarah went along for a vacation. The Eli Harris family went along with them. It was here that she met James Gammell Harris, and while in Idaho she became his sweetheart. In the winter of 1893 he went to Utah, and married Sarah in the Logan Temple. They were the parents of twelve children. Sarah was called upon to part by death with six of her children. When her husband died she was left with eight children, seven of them not married. Her financial state was not good, although she was out of debt. She depended upon her sons for support.

Sarah served as First Counselor in the Relief Society and was a home teacher; she also taught Primary. For five years she opened her home to the missionaries for Sunday School and Sacrament meetings. She had an organ that contributed greatly to the services. She also helped with the Red Cross, and was one of its leaders in the area.

Sarah moved to Smithfield in 1921 and lived with her brother. She was very independent and tried to be self supporting.She worked for other people, and also tended children. She died of heart trouble at Logan, Utah, and was buried at Smithfield, Utah.

MARY BERNES HARRIS, dau. of Eli Harris and Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell, was b. 16 Jan. 1875, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 27 Jan. 1914, Ashton, Fremont Co., Idaho; bur. 29 Jan. 1914, Ashton, Idaho. She md. 21 Apr. 1895, Hiram Phillip Spratling, at Marysville, Fremont Co., Idaho.

Mary received a limited education at Richmond. At the age of sixteen she went with her parents to Marysville, Idaho, to homestead land. At the age of twenty she married Hiram Phillip Spratling. Mary was a sweet and gentle woman, loved by everyone. She was a beautiful singer, and was frequently asked. She was a wonderful mother and wife. She lived all her married life on a homestead on the north side of North Fork of the Snake River.

Mary was active in church. She was President of the Primary in the Vernon Ward, and was an active member of the ward choir. She worked very hard assisting her husband in the farm and dairy work. She was very handy with horses, and enjoyed horseback riding with the family. She died at Ashton, Idaho, and was buried there.

HIRAM PHILLIP SPRATLING, son of George Spralting and Mary Davis, was b. 25 Sept. 1866, Bruton, Sommerset, England; d. 6 Feb. 1945, Gridley, Butte Co., Calif.; bur. 9 Feb. 1945, Gridley, Calif. He md. 21 Apr. 1895, Mary Bernes Harris, at Marysville, Fremont Co., Idaho.

At the request of his father on his deathbed, his mother and family came to America. Phillip celebrated his tenth birthday aboard a ship enroute to America. They arrived at Salt Lake City on 6 Oct. 1877, and made their home at West Jordan, Utah. Phillip worked at various jobs, and at the age of fourteen went to work herding sheep. He spent many months alone in the mountains near Salt Lake City, and had many frightening experiences as a young boy.

In 1888 his family moved to Marysville, Idaho, where his father homesteaded land. Phillip worked away from home much of the time. He worked at Dillon, Montana, and also at Butte for mining companies as a cook. Later he worked as a cook at the River Side Hotel at St. Anthony, Idaho. At this time he met and courted Mary Bernes Harris. They had five children. During the following years he became active in the church. He was Sunday School Superintendent for a number of years, and served as a ward teacher at Ashton. He died at Gridley, Calif.

LUCY AZENETH HARRIS, dau. of Eli Harris and Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell, was b. 23 Mar. 1877, Richmond, Cache Co., Utah; d. 6 June 1952, Ashton, Fremont Co., Idaho; bur. 9 June 1952, Ashton, Idaho. She md. 14 Nov. 1905, William Joseph Salisbury, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah. (Div.)

At the age of fourteen Lucy and her family moved to Marysville, Idaho. She was reared on a homestead. She loved horses, and became an excellent horsewoman. When she was seventeen she went to Thatcher, Idaho, and worked in a store. After two years she returned to Marysville. Lucy was asked to teach the children of the community, which she accepted, and was a wonderful influence for good.

She married William Joseph Salisbury. They had two children, both of which passed away in infancy. Soon after this her husband was called on a mission. She went to work for the Barrett Merchantile Company, keeping her husband on his mission. Soon after his return home from his mission, Lucy and William were divorced.

She accepted a job in St. Anthony for the Fogg and Jacobs Co., which she held until she was elcted County Treasurer and served for two terms. Later she accepted a job in Oakley, Idaho, and worked as the Clark County Clerk for eight years. She then went to Boise, Idaho, where she worked as a clerk in the State Capitol Building until she retired. She then returned to Ashton making her home with her sister Effie Harris McArthur. She was with her sister for about two years before she died.

WILLIAM JOSEPH SALISBURY, son of Joseph Morris Salisbury and Miranda Ramsden, was b. 10 Oct. 1880, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah. He md. (1) 14 Nov. 1905, Lucy Azeneth Harris; md. (2) 10 Aug. 1910, Cleo Edna McRae.

In 1885 his family moved to a farm in Granger, Utah, where he worked on the farm. The first schooling he received was from his father, who was a school leacher. His parents died in 1897 and 1898. He and his three sisters and a younger brother moved to Marysville, Idaho, in May 1898.

William lived with an uncle and aunt in Marysville. For a number of years he helped on the farm, and did janitor work at the church. He completed the eighth grade of school at Marysville. For a number of years he carried mail from St. Anthony to Marysville.

He married Lucy Azeneth Harris in the Salt Lake Temple. In 1906 he was called on a mission to the Western States, and labored in Colorado and Nebraska. Upon his return he attended the Latter Day Saint Business College in Salt Lake City, Utah. He taught a class in mathematics at the college at night, and worked as a shoe salesman on Saturdays. While at school he took an examination for Railway Postal Clerk. He passed and was appointed clerk between Ogden and San Francisco. Later he served between Portland and Pocatello, Utah.

His marriage to Lucy was a failure, and ended in divorce. He later married Cleo Edna McRae in Independence, Missouri, on 10 Aug. 1910. After a short honeymoon to Chicago, they settled at Pocatello, Idaho.

Later he was transferred to Kansas City, Missouri, Post Office where he worked for 43 years. He retired in 1950, at which time he was a supervisor. The next day he went to work for a music company. William and Cleo resided in Independence, Missouri, and were the parents of three daughters.

Shortly after moving to Independence, William was appointed Sunday School Superintendent of that branch, where he served for twenty five years. He also served as a board member of the Sunday School for the mission, helping the various branches with their problems. He also served as Ward Teachers clerk, speech director, and teacher of the High Priests Quorum in recent years.

Lucy Azeneth Harris and William Joseph Salisbury had issue:

1. Guy Salisbury (twin), b. 16 May 1906, Marysville, Idaho; d. 23 July 1906; unmd.

When Albert returned from his mission he married Ivy Harris. They made their home in Marysville, Idaho, where he worked in a local store. Later he drove a stage coach through the Yellowstone Park. In 1914 he moved his family to Logan, Utah, where he attended the Agricultural College. He specialized in forestery. Later he went to Missoula, Montana, where he finished his training, and passed his civil service examinations. He was employed by the Forest Service as a Forest Ranger at Victor, Idaho. After a few years he entered into the mercantile business. He bought the Victor Mercantile Company, and renamed it the J.A. Brower and Son Company. He had this business until 1929, when he lost it to the Utah Credit Association.

Albert then moved his family to Logan, and became a car salesman for Chrysler Corporation. In the spring of 1933 he returned to the Forest Service. He worked in the Salmon National Forest, and lived a Salmon, Idaho. He worked here for sixteen years until retirement age. In 1948 he moved to Provo, Utah; and in 1962 sold his home and moved to California.

Albert has always been active in civic and church affairs. While at Victor he served as Bishop of that ward for six years. He was a member of the High Council in Salmon, Idaho. He became the group leader of the High Priests of the Eighth Ward while in Provo.

WILLIAM VERNAL HARRIS, son of Eli Harris and Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell, was b. 14 Oct. 1889, Lewiston, Cache Co., Utah; d. 10 Mar. 1962, Ashton, Fremont Co., Idaho; bur. 13 Mar. 1962, Tetonia, Teton Co., Idaho. He md. 18 Oct. 1916, Edna Agunda Hansen, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah. (Div.)

William Vernal was acquainted with pioneering and hard work from his youth. When he was only eight years of age he carried water by pony to the men building the Brady Canal, the first one into Marysville. After his father's death in 1902 he and his brothers helped break and clear sage-brush on the homestead. In his early twenties he moved with his family to Cache, Idaho. He received his education in Marysville and Ashton, and studied one year at Ricks College. As a young man he was very particular about his own clothes. He had a special love for horses, and his horse, buggy, and harness had to be the best.

While living at Cache he met his future wife, Edna Agunda Hansen. They were married in the Logan Temple, and had three sons. William acquired a ranch close to his wife's parents. He worked hard and was a successful rancher. Besides his ranch and cattle he worked for the Nelson-Ricks Creamery Company. He was a loyal employee for thirty six years. During this time he was very ambitious and a good manager, and purchased several hundred acres of land, and milked a big herd of cows. In 1948 he turned his property over to his wife and sons. He moved to Ashton, where he continued in the employment of the creamery company in their cheese plant. He retired at the age of sixty five.

EDNA AGUNDA HANSEN, dau. of Neils H. Hansen and Emma Ewer, was b. 4 Dec. 1898, Cache, Teton Co., Idaho. She md. 18 Oct. 1916, William Vernal Harris, in the Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah. (Div.)

Edna was reared and received her education at Cache, Idaho. As a teenager and young lady she was very popular. She took an active part in school and church activities. After her marriage, she and her husband settled on a ranch at Cache. They did very well financially with both farming and cattle raising.

LAVERNA HARRIS, dau. of Eli Harris and Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell, was b. 29 Mar. 1892, Marysville, Fremont Co., Idaho; d. 21 Sept. 1961, Ashton, Fremont Co., Idaho; bur. 25 Sept. 1961, Ashton, Idaho. She md. 3 Oct. 1913, Ward Willard Reynolds, at Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

LaVerna's parents were among the first settlers in the Marysville area. She started school in a little log school house, and graduated from the eighth grade. In the spring of 1902 her father died, and all the family all helped to make a living. At the age of sixteen she went to work at West Yellowstone during the summer months. During his year she met Ward Willard Reynolds. They courted for one year, then Ward went on a three year mission. When he returned home they were married in the Salt Lake Temple.

After her marriage, she and her husband made their home in Marysville for two years, then moved to Teton Basin. LaVerna became the First Counselor in the Young Women's Mutual in the Chapin Ward. They moved back to Marysville in 1923. She worked in the Relief Society and later became President. Other church positions she held were Sunday School teacher, Primary chorister, and a visiting teacher in the Relief Society for thirty five years.

LaVerna was the mother of six daughters and two sons. All her children graduated from the Ashton High School, and all attended college. In the year 1952 her husband went on a second mission to the Eastern States. LaVerna died in 1961 at Ashton, Idaho, and was buried there.

WARD WILLARD REYNOLDS, son of Levi Bert Reynolds and Emily Martenson, was b. 13 Sept. 1888, at Lawrence, Emery Co., Utah. He md. 3 Oct. 1913, LaVerna Harris, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah. Ward received his early education at Lawrence until he was thireen years of age, when his family moved to Marysville, Idaho. Ward worked on the farm in his youth. During the summers of 1907 to 1909 he worked at Yellowstone Park for a Chicago Tourist Compnay. In the fall of 1909 he was called on a mission to the Northern States Mission, where he served for thrity months.

Ward courted LaVerna Harris for a year before his mission, and on his return they were married. For many years after his marriage Ward was engaged in the farming business. Then he entered the contracting business and did various types of timber and cellar construction for a ten year period. After this he worked another ten years for a large construction company until reaching retirement age. Ward was active in the church all his life. He served on the Stake Genealogical Committee, Superintendent of the Sunday School and the Mutual, and was a stake missionary.

EFFIE HARRIS, dau. of Eli Harris and Elizabeth Harriett Mahala Gammell, was b. 20 May 1894, Marysville, Fremont Co., Idaho; d. 28 Jan. 1952, Ashton, Fremont Co., Idaho; bur. 3 Feb. 1952, Ashton, Idaho. She md. 4 Mar. 1926, Percy Duncan McArthur, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

Effie was reared in Marysville, where she obtained her education. She was very devoted to her mother, and felt keenly the responsibility of caring for her. She became the Post Mistress at Marysville, and worked there until her mother died in 1919. She then decided to go into nursing. She attended the Latter Day Saint Hospital at Salt Lake City, where she graduated. She then studied special nursing at the Alhambra Hospital in Alhambra, California. At this time she accepted an assignment to work as a special nurse for Mrs. Percy Duncan McArthur of Monrovia, Calif. She was confined to her bed and needed special care. She worked here until Mrs. McArthur died.

Effie continued her nursing career for two more years. During this time Percy Duncan McArthur courted her. They were married in the Salt Lake Temple. They made their home in Marysville, Idaho, where they purchased a ranch. Accepting all the responsibilities to make a happy married life, Effie became familiar with all the farm machinery, and learned how to operate it.

At the completion of each harvest Effie and her husband would take their trailer and spend the winter months visiting Florida, New Mexico, Mexico, and California. When they decided to retire they bought a home and moved to Ashton, Idaho.

Effie's husband died at the age of seventy. The loss of her constant companion seemed to be more than Effie could bear. Her health began to fail, and she passed away in 1952 at the Ashton Memorial Hospital. Effie and Percy had no children.

PERCY DUNCAN MCARTHUR, son of William Henry McArthur and Henryzetta M. Hutchinson, was b. 6 Mar. 1878, Mt. Pleasant, Sanpete Co., Utah; d. 13 Oct. 1948, Idaho Falls, Bonneville Co., Idaho. He md. (1) Harriet Shaw; md. (2) 4 Mar. 1926, Effie Harris, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

As a boy Percy helped his father on the ranch, one of his responsibilities was to herd the cattle. His family moved to Lawrence, Emery Co., Utah, when he was ten years of age. When he was nineteen he met Harriett Shaw. After a period of courtship they were married in the Manti Temple, Sanpete Co., Utah. They had no children.

Percy continued to work on his father's ranch after his marriage. In 1900 he moved with his parents to Marysville, Idaho. Here Percy and his wife purchased a ranch. He was active in church work, and served a two year mission. He was active in civic affairs. He was State Representative of Fremont Co., and was the Mayor of Marysville for some time.

Percy and his wife moved to California where he was engaged in the real estate business. His wife became very ill, and a special nurse was hired. This was Effie Harris. After the death of Percy's first wife, he married Effie. They were married in Salt Lake City, Utah, and made their home at Marysville, Idaho. Percy purchased another farm, and he and Effie operated this together. During the winter months, following the harvest, the would travel to warmer parts of the country, and into Mexico. Percy died in 1948, at Idaho Falls, Idaho. Percy and Effie had no children.

CHAPTER XI

EMILY CAROLINE HARRIS and ALEXANDER HILL BULLOCK family

EMILY CAROLINE HARRIS, dau. of McGee Harris and Mary Givens, was b. 14 Feb. 1844, Marion, Williamson Co., Illinois; b. 5 Apr. 1918, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah; bur. 5 Apr. 1918, Pleasant Grove, Utah. She md. 9 Nov. 1861, Alexander Hill Bullock, in Salt Lake Endowment House, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

Emily was the youngest child in the family. Her parents joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints 8 June 1844, shortly after her birth. When she was two years of age her parents moved to Winter Quarters, Neb. Late in May 1848 they began their westward trek over the plains to Salt Lake Valley, Utah. They travelled by oxen, and arrived on 20 Sept. 1848.

The family settled on Third South and Main Street in Salt Lake City. Their first home was a wagon box, which was later replaced by a one room log cabin. Two years later they moved to Farmington, Utah. In 1853 they moved to Fort Herriman in the southwestern part of Salt Lake Valley.

In 1854 when Emily was ten years of age, she went to live with her sister Martha Wells, the wife of Daniel Hanmer Wells. She helped care for the Wells children and helped with the household duties. She remained here until she was married. She met and was courted by Alexander Hill Bullock while living in the Wells home. After her marriage she lived in the same home as Rachael Grant, the mother of President Heber Jeddy Grant. The friendship between them was very close.

In Mar. 1870 Emily and her husband moved to Pleasant Grove, Utah. Emily was very prominent in church and civic work, and was known for her works of charity and service to others. For nearly a half a century she was prominently identified with the Relief Society. In Salt Lake City she was a visiting teacher, and continued to serve in Pleasant Grove. In 1871 she took charge of sewing. In 1879 she was choosen as a Counselor in the Relief Society and served for thirteen years. Later she was again choosen as a Relief Society Counselor, and then became a member of the Alpine Relief Society Stake Board. This later position she held until her death. Emily was called and set apart to tend the sick, and to lend a helping hand in laying out the dead. She was a Sunday School teacher for fifteen years, and was a member of the Old Folks Committee in Pleasant Grove.

Emily was noted for being a wonderful cook. There was scarcely a wedding supper in Pleasant Grove that she was not called upon to help. She made dozens of wedding cakes for people in Pleasnat Grove, American Fork, and Salt Lake City. She was hostess to many of the General Authorities of the Church, as well as civic and State leaders. She was also an excellent seamstress. When her husband was called on a mission when he was nearly fifty years of age, she made a livelihood through her cooking and sewing.

Emily was the mother of seven children, one of which died as a child. Emily died 3 Apr. 1918 at Pleasant Grove, Utah, and was buried in the local cemetery.

ALEXANDER HILL BULLOCK, son of James Bullock and Mary Hill, was b. 22 Sept. 1838, Essa Township, Simcoe, Ontario, Canada; d. 6 Mar. 1926, Pleasnat Grove, Utah Co., Utah; bur. 9 Mar. 1926, Pleasant Grove, Utah. He md. (1) 9 Nov. 1861, Emily Caroline Harris, in Salt Lake Endowment House, Salt Lake Co., Utah. He md. (2) 6 Dec. 1875, Clarissa Melissa Herron, in Salt Lake Endowment House, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

His parents were converted to the church in 1840 by Samuel Lake. His family and his wife's family accepted the gospel. In the summer of 1841 the left Canada and arrived at Nauvoo, Illinois, the early part of Sept. 1841. They resided here until the spring of 1846, then they wended their way to Winter Quarters, Neb., arriving late in the autumn of 1846. The eked out a miserable existence for about eighteen months. On 1 June 1848 President Brigham Young organized a number of companies of 50 to 100 wagons each for the trek. The next morning the Bullock family began their journey across the plains in the second Brigham Young Company. The trip was made in oxen teams, the Bullock family had two wagons. Alexander, only nine, drove one and his father the other. They arrived at Salt Lake Valley on 20 Sept. 1848, and located on the corner of Third South and Main Street.

Alexander's father died when he was only eleven years of age. He was the oldest living child, and assumed the greater part of the responsibility of supporting the family. In 1854 when fifteen years of age he went to work as a teamster for Daniel Hanmer Wells. He kept this position for sixteen years. Alexander met Emily Caroline Harris in the Wells home where she was helping her sister. After a period of courting they were married in Salt Lake City, Utah.

In Mar. 1870 Alexander took his family to Pleasant Grove, Utah, to supervise one of the Wells farms. He tok charge of this farm until 1887, when it was sold. Alexander acquired a thirty acre farm of his own, and engaged in farming and stock raising. He and Emily were the parents of seven children. On 6 Dec. 1875, Alexander married Clarissa Melissa Herron.

Alexander was President of the Elders Quorum in 1871, and served for thirteen years. Later he was ordained one of the Seven Presidents of the 44th Quorum of Seventies, and served four years. He was called on a mission to New Zealand on 1 May 1887, and served two years and five months on the north island. On his return to Pleasant Grove he was ordained a High Priest, and was chosen as Second Counselor in the Bishopric. Later he served as First Counselor. He served in the Bishopric for twelve years. He was in the Sunday School organization for thirty years, and was a Ward Teacher most of his married life. He also served as a home missionary.

In political life Alexander was a Republican. He served as City

Marshal for twelve years, and City Councilman for four years. He also acted as County Constable and Justice of Peace. These four politican positions he held over a period of seventeen years. He died 6 Mar. 1926, at Pleasant Grove, Utah, and was buried there.

EMILY ELLEN BULLOCK, dau. of Alexander Hill Bullock and Emily Caroline Harris, was b. 18 Oct. 1862, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 4 Nov. 1906, Pleasant Grove, Utah; bur. Pleasant Grove, Utah. She md. 11 Dec. 1884, Thomas Adamson, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

When Emily was seven years of age her family moved to Pleasant Grove, Utah. She was taught to do all kinds of house work, sewing and cooking. Her parents often entertained many of the Church Authorities who came to spend the week ends in the country. It was Emily's chore to keep things neat and tidy, and do much of the gathering and preparing of the vegetables for the meals.

Emily took an active part in the Sunday School and other organizations. In 1880 she was assistant secretary of the Relief Society. She was only 18 years of age when asked to write a historical sketch of the Relief Society of the Pleasant Grove Branch from the time it was first organizaed. This sketch was placed in a Jubilee Box left in the care of Margaret Smoot on 24 Feb. 1880. It was opened 6 April 1930 at Provo. Emily was secretary of the Relief Society for many years, and held this office at the time of her death.

Emily married Thomas Adamson, and had nine children. Their home was very humble, and many hardships were endured. Emily assisted in earning the family income by sewing. She was not a woman who took delight in public displays or social functions. Her sphere and delight was her home. Her health was not good before the birth of her last child. When it was three weeks old she suddenly took ill and died.

THOMAS ADAMSON, son of David Adamson and Elizabeth Crooks, was b. 26 Feb. 1861, American Fork, Utah Co., Utah; d. 1 Feb. 1930, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah; bur. 4 Feb. 1930, Pleasant Grove, Utah. He md. 11 Dec. 1884, Emily Ellen Bullock, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Thomas received a limited education from the American Fork schools. When he was in his teens his father purchased a flour mill in Pleasant Grove, Utah, and moved his family there. Thomas learned the business. One by one his brothers withdrew, but Thomas stayed with it until sold. He then worked in the American Fork flour mill, and later was hired to assist in the milling at Lehi Roller Mills.

Thomas married Emily Ellen Bullock in the Logan Temple. They were the parents of nine children. They had many hardships during their life. When only forty four his wife died, leaving a baby only three weeks old. He gave up the milling business, and leased sheep from his brother. He struggled hard to provide for his family. He succeeded in keeping them all together, and helped his sons to get established in the sheep business.

On 17 Mar. 1915, he married Helen Hickerson. This marriage was not successful, and after a few years they separated. Thomas served in the Pleasant Grove City Council, and on various live stock and grazing boards. He was interested in hunting and fishing. He was a very good marksman. He died at the age of sixty nine at his home in Pleasant Grove, Utah.

WILLIAM ALEXANDER BULLOCK, son of Alexander Hill Bullock and Emily Caroline Harris, was b. 25 June 1865, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 19 June 1943, Lindon, Utah Co., Utah; bur. 22 June 1943, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah. He md. 15 Dec. 1887, Clara Ellen Marrott, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

At the age of five his parents moved to Pleasant Grove, Utah. As a youth he helped his father on the farm, and worked on the United Order when it was first started in Pleasant Grove, Utah. He herded cattle, taking them every morning along the shores of Utah Lake, and returning to town in the evening. He drove a yoke of oxen to plow when he was so small he had to reach up to hold the plough handles. He also hauled wood from the canyon while still a lad, making many trips alone.

William had very little formal education, what he did receive was during the winter months, when not helping on the farm. William was 22 years of age when his father was called on a mission to New Zealand. He was the oldest boy and the responsibility of providing for the family was his.

He met and courted Clara Ellen Marrott. Later they were married in the Logan Temple. They lived in two rooms of his parents home for about five years in Pleasant Grove, Utah. Then they built a two room rock house just east of his fathers. For the first nineteen years of married life William was engaged in the farming business. In 1906 he was employed by the A.K. Thornton and Sons Lumber Co. of Pleasant Grove. He worked for this company for thirty one years, and was yard foreman at the time of his retirement.

Alexander's wife died in 1934. He sold his home to his daughter, Mary, and lived with his daughter Eva for several years. After the death of Eva he lived with his daughter Louise, where he died in 1943. He was buried at Pleasant Grove, Utah.

CLARA ELLEN MARROTT, dau. of William Marrott and Louisa Fowlke, was b. 8 Jan. 1867, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah; d. 4 Aug. 1934, Pleasant Grove, Utah; bur. 7 Aug. 1934, Pleasant Grove, Utah. She md. 14 Dec. 1887, William Alexander Bullock, in Logan Temple, Cache Co., Utah.

Clara was the third child of a family of fifteen children. She was reared under pioneering hardships. She assisted her mother greatly in caring for the other children. She completed the fifth grade in school at Pleasant Grove, Utah. As she grew older, she took her turn mixing and baking bread for the family, making twenty four loaves every other day. She also helped with the huge family washing. Clara also worked in homes for other people, and received fifty cents per week as wages.

In 1887 she married William Alexander Bullock. She was the mother of eight children. Clara had a sweet disposition. She was always happy, and made fun for the family. She was very fond of singing, and was a member of the Ward Choir. She was a visiting teacher in the Relief Society until her health failed.

Clara was a good housekeeper. She was loved by all those who came in contact with her. She was liberal with whatever she had, and was always happiest when giving and helping others. She died at her home in 1934, and was buried in the local cemetery at Pleasant Grove, Utah.

Newell Harris Bullock

Mary Ellen Covington Skillings

(Dr.) NEWELL HARRIS BULLOCK, son of Alexander Hill Bullock and Emily Caroline Harris, was b. 22 Oct. 1867, Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah; d. 13 Nov. 1929, San Francisco, San Francisco Co., Calif.; bur. 15 Nov. 1929, Oak Hill Mem. Park, San Jose, Santa Clara Co., Calif. He md. 21 Dec. 1904, Mary Ellen Covington Skillings.

In early childhood Newell had a desire to be a physician. He completed all the schooling he could get in Pleasant Grove, Utah; and later attended the University of Utah. He graduated with an A.B. degree in Education in May 1898. After graduation he taught for one year at Santaquin, Utah. He saved his money, and continued his education at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif. He received his A.M. degree in May 1900. He then taught school at the San Jose Teachers College for a few years. Later he went to the Rush Medical School at Northwestern University, Illinois. Upon graduation with a M.D. degree he took his intership in the Cook County Hospital, Illinois; then returned to San Jose, Calif.

Newell married Mary Ellen Covington Skillings, who was also a graduate from Stanford University. They had no children of their own, but they were foster parents to Helen E. Nelson, a cousin to Mary Ellen.

Dr. Bullock was a practicing physician in San Jose for twenty years. He opened his local practice in 1909, laying the foundation for what gradually became one of the largest practices in Santa Clara County. He went to Europe or to the eastern United States every two or three years to attend special study clinics, and was engaged in research with the leading medical specialists of the world.

He was active in civic and medical circles. He was President of the Santa Clara County Health Center, including all clinics. He was President of the Santa Clara County Tuberculosis Association, medical examiner of San Jose State College, and physician for the Edwin Markham Health Cottage at the college. Several companies enjoyed his services, among them the Western Union, Union Oil Company, Shell Oil Company, and several insurance companies.

Newell was of a congenial nature and liked to mingle with his fellow men. He was a member of the Elks Order, and a thirty-second degree Mason. He was also a member of the Quest Club, a small group of prominent local men of San Jose. He performed splendid service to the community over a period of many years. He was one of the best known medical men in California at the time of his death. He died of leukemia on 13 Nov. 1929, at the Stanford University Hospital, San Francisco, California.

MARY ELLEN COVINGTON SKILLINGS, dau. of E.M. Skillings and Nannie Covington, was b. 30 May 1875, Gilroy, Santa Clara Co., California; d. 8 Jan. 1948, Santa Barbara, Santa Barbara Co., Calif.; bur. 12 Jan. 1948, Oak Hill Memorial Park, San Jose, Santa Clara Co., Calif. She md. 21 Dec. 1904, Dr. Newell Harris Bullock.

Mary Ellen attended Stanford University and received her A.B. degree in Education in Sept. 1900. She married Dr. Newell Harris Bullock. They did not have any children; however, they were foster parents to Mary Ellen's cousin, Miss Helen E. Nelson.

Mary Ellen was active in the National Association of University Women. She joined the association upon graduation from Stanford University, and only two years out of college was made director of the San Francisco branch, and served as its secretary. She served twice as its president, once when the local association entertained the associations of California. She was a national delegate twice, in addition to acting as state delegate. She served as chairman of numerous committees among them being the program, social welfare, scholarship, and library committees. She served for 14 years as chairman of the lecture committee.

Mary Ellen had numerous other community affiliations. She was chairman of the County Federation Committee on motion pictures. She was a prominant member of the Monday Club, To Kalon, and the Outdoor Art League. She was vice-president of the Stanford Convalescent Home, a member of the Community Chest, and a member of the San Jose Theater Commission.

She was selected as one of the 150 delegates of the American Association of University Women to attend the tri-annual conference of the world federation in Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 7 to Aug. 15, 1929. Her husband and cousin accompanied her on the tour. They left in June and took a cruise through the Mediterranean. They visited Spain, Africa, Italy, and Holland before going to Switzerland. Following the conference they visited Scotland, England, and Canada before returning to California in October that year. She died in 1948 at Santa Barbara, California and was buried at San Jose, California.

Newell Harris Bullock and Mary Ellen Covington Skillings had no issue.

EFFIE DEANE BULLOCK, dau. of Alexander Hill Bullock and Emily Caroline Harris, was b. 22 Apr. 1871, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah; d. 17 Dec. 1933, Pleasant Grove, Utah; bur. 19 Dec. 1933, Pleasant Grove, Utah. She md. (1) 2 May 1894, William Henry Marrott, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

Effie Deane was reared on a large farm, and learned to cook and sew very well. She attended school in Pleasant Grove, Utah, and later went to Provo to attend the Brigham Young Academy where she graduated from the Normal Department. Effie taught school two years at Lindon, Utah, then taught for one year at Heber City. While she was at Heber she was courted by William Henry Marrott of Pleasant Grove, as he made his weekly business trips through this city. In 1894 they were married, and they moved into a new home he had just built.

After the birth of her second child, her husband was called on a mission to the Northwestern States. During his absence Effie kept his business going, planted and harvested crops, cared for the farm animals, and supported her little family. When he returned Effie served as his bookkeeper. He died at an early age. Effie began studying and attended summer school. She secured a position with the Smith-Hughes program, travelling each day by Interurban train to Lehi, American Fork, Lincoln, and Pleasant Grove High Schools. Later she taught for several years a program in Domestic Art at Pleasant Grove and Lincoln Schools.

During her years of girlhood and as a wife, she worked in many of the church organizations. She was a counselor and later the President of the Primary. She was always interested in Relief Society work. For many years she took over the job of decorating and draping the chapel of the old Tabernacle during funerals. She became Relief Society President in 1915, and served for several years. She was also Mutual President for four years, and served on the Stake Board of the Relief Society.

Effie md. (2) 17 Oct. 1928, John Alma Adamson, at Salt Lake City, Salt Lake Co., Utah. He was b. 22 Mar. 1865, American Fork, Utah Co., Utah; d. 29 May 1940, American Fork, Utah; bur. 2 June 1940, Pleasant Grove, Utah; son of David Adamson and Elizabeth Crooks.

Effie Deane's health gradually failed. She died in 1933 at Pleasant Grove, Utah, and was buried in the local cemetery.

WILLIAM HENRY MARROTT, son of William Marrott and Louisa Fowlke, was b. 1 Feb. 1869, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah; d. 15 Sept. 1918, Pleasant Grove, Utah; bur. 17 Sept. 1918, Pleasant Grove, Utah. He md. Effie Deane Bullock on 2 May 1894, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

William was the fourth child in a family of fifteen children. He was born into very humble circumstances. He assisted his father on the farm raising vegetables, herding cows, hauling wood, and handling horses. He had very little formal education.

As a young man William freighted vegetables, fruits, eggs, chickens, and other food stuffs to the towns in Wasatch and Summit Counties. For many years he supplied the boarding houses of the Silver King and Daily Judge mines at Park City, Utah, with their weekly supply of perishable foods. He made one trip each week, leaving Pleasant Grove at dawn on Tuesday morning and returning Friday evening.

In 1894 he married Effie Deane Bullock in the Salt Lake Temple. He had built a four room brick home to which he took his bride. In the year 1900 William was called on a mission to the Northwestern States. After his return, he built another large home for his family.

William was President of the Young Men's Mutual for several years. He served as First Counselor in the Bishopric of the First Ward, until he was released because of poor health. William was a progressive worker in civic affairs. At the time of his death he was serving as a four-year councilman in Pleasant Grove, and was a director of the Bank of Pleasant Grove, Utah.

Whatever task William undertook, he always gave his best. He was always meticulous and systematic about his work. His barnyard was always neat and orderly. There was a place for every tool. His two acre farm upon which his home was built was always neat and free from weeds. His MCGEE HARRIS BULLOCK, son of Alexander Hill Bullock and Emily Caroline Harris, was b. 6 Nov. 1876, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah; d. 7 Aug. 1944, Pleasant Grove, Utah; bur. 10 Aug. 1944, Pleasant Grove, Utah. He md. 28 May 1902, Octavia Paulson, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

As a child McGee had beautiful blond curly hair which fell in ringlets. His mother let it grow this way until he was five years of age. One day when his mother was not home he had his sister cut his hair short. Mack graduated from the elementary and high school at Pleasant Grove. He then attended the University of Utah at Salt Lake City. He served two and one half years as a missionary in the Southern States. Soon after his return home he married Octavia Paulson. The first year of marriage he taught school at Elberta, Utah. The following year he returned to Pleasant Grove, where he farmed, hauled ore from American Fork Canyon, and layed bricks with his father-in-law.

McGee was an interesting story teller, and he had a keen sense of of humor. He was an active member of the church. He was Superintendent of the Sunday School for many years, was a member of the Seventies Quorum, and was a Stake Missionary. He served as the Pleasant Grove City Recorder for three years.

During his lifetime McGee had several accidents. On one occasion he was buried up to his armpits in a gravel quarry. Another time his wagon was struck by a car. He was knocked over the horses heads, and and run over by his wagon. Both legs were severly broken. It was necessary to have silver plates in both legs. The medical doctors said he would not be able to walk again, but he did. He was able to do his own farm work, but never fully recovered. He always limped slightly and his legs always pained.

McGee loved to watch baseball games, rodeos, and western movies. He enjoyed reading. He never travelled much after his mission, but he was familiar with all the surrounding mountains and canyons. In 1943 he developed cancer of the mouth and throat. He died in 1944 at Pleasant Grove, and was buried there.

OCTAVIA PAULSON, dau. of Mauritz Peter Paulson and Inger Madsen, was b. 28 Apr. 1876, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah; d. 28 Dec. 1959, Provo, Utah Co., Utah; bur. 31 Dec. 1959, Pleasant Grove, Utah. She md. 28 May 1902, McGee Harris Bullock, in Salt Lake Temple, Utah.

Her parents were Danish converts who settled in Pleasant Grove, Utah. Her childhood was simple as most children in a small pioneer community. She learned to assist her father with the farm work, as well as working in the home. She completed the fourth grade in school.

At the age of twenty six she married McGee Harris Bullock, and was the mother of four daughters. The home and her family were her main interests. She was a good cook, most of the food coming from the farm and garden. She was a good seamstress and made most of the family clothes.

Octavia had long hair and wore it in a bun on the back of her head. She was short, only five feet tall. In later years shw was rather plump, but full of energy and ambition. She loved gardening, and always had her yard full of flowers and shrubs of many kinds. In her later years she became increasingly feeble. Her last few years were spent in the Eldred Sunset Manor at Provo, where she died. She was buried in Pleasant Grove Cemetery, Utah.

FLORENCE BULLOCK, dau. of Alexander Bullock and Emily Caroline Harris, was b. 5 Feb. 1882, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah. She md. 29 Sept. 1909, John Peter Madsen, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

Florence was the youngest of seven children. She received her education from the elementary schools in Pleasant Grove, Utah. She entered the Brigham Young Academy at Provo, Utah, in 1902. She graduated in June 1906 with a high rating. She began her teaching career in Sept. 1906 in Pleasant Grove, Utah, where she taught for four years.

On 29 Sept. 1909 she married John Peter Madsen in Salt Lake City, Utah. They had one child, Emily. In 1911 Florence and her new born baby joined her husband on a ranch in Duchesne, Utah, where he was homesteading. Their first home consisted of a one-room log cabin, later a lage stone room and a sleeping porch was added.

Florence found pioneering rather difficult compared to her home in Pleasant Grove, yet she surmounted the obstacles when they arose. In the fall of 1912 she returned to school teaching. She either walked or drove a two-wheeled cart three miles from the ranch to the school in Duchesne. In the Spring of 1916 Florence was appointed Primary Supervisor for the schools in Duchesne County. Sometimes she travelled over one hundred fifty miles visiting outlying schools.

In 1919 a new home was built for the family on North Street in Duchesne. This eased Florence's problems of getting to work each day. She taught school in Duchesne for thirty years, eight years of which she was Primary Supervisor.

Florence was a very religious person. Before her marriage she was a teacher in Primary and Sunday School, a Counselor in the Primary, and a member of the Alpine Stake Primary Board. In 1904 she was choosen a Counselor on the Stake Primary Board and served until she moved to Duchesne. In 1915 she was secretary of the Duchesne Ward Relief Society, and later served as President. Is is highly respected and loved by her friends, neighbors, relatives, and community.

JOHN PETER MADSEN, son of John Madsen and Hannah Jorgensen, was b. 16 Feb. 1883, Vineyard, Utah Co., Utah. He md. 29 Sept. 1909, Florence Bullock, in Salt Lake Temple, Salt Lake Co., Utah.

John attended the Vineyard school in his youth and graduated from the eighth grade. He also attended the Brigham Young Academy at Provo, Utah, for three months. He assisted his father on the farm until nineteen years of age. He was then called on a two year mission to the Southern States. On his return in 1904 he was called to serve as a Stake Missionary, and held this position for four years.

John went to Duchesne, Utah, where he homesteaded a ranch, and became a very successful farmer. In 1909 he married Florence Bullock in the Salt Lake Temple. He took his young bride to the ranch where they helped to pioneer the Duchesne area.

John was active in church affairs. He served as Sunday School Superintendent, President of the Elders Quorum, a President in the Seventies Quorum, Counselor in a Bishopric, Stake Chairman of the Genealogical Committee, Chairman of the Stake Missionary Committee, Stake Superintendent of the Sunday School, Counselor in the Stake Mutual, and Stake Supervisor of the Adult Aaronic Priesthood. He became a member of the Stake High Council in 1942 and served until 1949. He was then sustained President of the High Priests Quorum. In 1954 he was made President of the Strawberry Branch, Duchesne Stake.

John was also active in political affairs of his community and the State. He served for twenty years as the Duchesne County Democratic Chairman, beginning in 1920. He was elected Duchesne City Councilman in 1933, and served for ten years. In 1947 he was elected Mayor or Duchesne. In 1944 to 1946 he was a State Representative from Duchesne County. In 1943 he was appointed a member of the Selective Service Board of Duchesne, and served for six years. In 1936 he was appointed by Governor Blood to the Farm Debt Adjustment Committee. John was Deputy Game Warden for twelve years. He served as finance chairman of Duchesne County Fairs for two years.

John Peter Madsen's life has been dedicated to serving his fellow men in the community and State. He was a successful farmer, yet he found time to assist in many civil and church affairs.

Florence Bullock and John Peter Madsen had the following children:

1. Emily Madsen, b. 9 July 1911, Pleasant Grove, Utah Co., Utah.
